Macmillan In Trouble With Public

Rising Tide Seen
Against British Prime Minister

LONDON, March 8 (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government is in serious trouble with the British electorate.

With gasoline rationing dragging on and the cost of living rising, the tide of public opinion is flowing toward the Laborites for the first time since they were swept out of power in 1951.

Special parliamentary elections in the last few weeks have shown an antigovernment swing of between five and six per cent in the voting, enough to put the Laborites back in power with a majority of 100 seats in the House of Commons if the trend were maintained.

The Conservatives lost a seat to Labor in one of the contests.

Staggering Blow

Yesterday's election at Warwick and Leamington, former Premier Sir Anthony Eden's old seat, was the most staggering blow yet to the Conservatives. They got their man in—but only by a 2,157 margin in a Conservative stronghold where Eden won by 13,466 at the 1955 general election.

There is every sign that Macmillan means to ride the storm and take the government through its full term. It still has three more years to run.

Last night Macmillan gave a pep talk to a restive meeting of Conservative members of Parliament, telling them "Don't get rattled." He sought to rally them with promises of better times ahead.

But sources close to the party said Macmillan has ordered a gingering up of the party organization. He hinted to the meeting that next month's presentation of the budget may be a first step toward giving government policies a "new look."

May Have Key Role

Peter Thorneycroft, chancellor of the exchequer, may play a key role. If he can think up new ideas for easing the tax burden, he may win back many who have deserted the government in months of austerity.

Macmillan holds that present problems bear little relation to issues on which the next general election will be fought. Most Britons believe this will not be before 1959.

It is up to the government in power to decide when to call a general election. No matter what setbacks it suffers at special elections, it is under no obligation to resign unless it is defeated in the House of Commons on an issue of policy or confidence. With its majority still at 56 that appears unlikely unless some new crisis splits the tightly disciplined Conservative ranks, as the Suez invasion threatened to do.

The jubilant Laborites are stepping up pressure on the government to call a general election now.

Arabs Demonstrate

GAZA, March 8 (AP)—Thousands of Palestinian Arabs surged through Gaza's streets today demanding return of Egyptian control to the Gaza Strip.

Bewildered but good-natured Scandinavian occupation troops of the U.N. Emergency Force kept the demonstrations under control. No violence was reported.

Bereaved Families Get Comfort In Unique Way

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 8 (AP)—A Louisville woman is finding it difficult to carry on her unique "Ministry of sympathy" but the task is being taken up by others all over the country.

For more than five years, Mrs. Louise Kniss has been bringing comfort to bereaved persons who are listed as survivors in obituaries and death notices printed in local newspapers.

Nasser Is Seen Victor At Suez

Egypt Leader Has Plan To Set Up Own Operation Of Canal

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—An old fight between Egypt and the Western powers swung back into the forefront of the Middle East situation today, with Egyptian President Nasser rated a good bet to win. At stake is operating control of the Suez Canal.

BETROTHED—Italian Contessa Aldera Franchetti will wed Actor Henry Fonda over the weekend if plans work out for the couple in New York. Fonda, 51, has been married three times while it will be the first marriage for the Contessa who is 24.

Hungary Police Arrest Leaders Of Big Church

BUDAPEST, Hungary, March 8 (AP)—Reliable sources said today Communist police have arrested five leaders of the Hungarian Calvinist Church, largest Protestant group in Hungary.

The five were said to have been prominent in the fight against Bishop Albert Bereczky, who has worked closely with the Communist regime. He was replaced by church leaders during the anti-Soviet revolt last fall. He attended the World Council of Churches in Evanston, Ill. in 1954 and claimed Hungary had religious freedom.

The sources said Dr. Barna Nagy, professor in the Calvinist Theological Seminary, and Dr. Sandor Joo, who has a parish in Budapest, were arrested Wednesday night after a search of their homes. The names of the others arrested were not immediately available. A Foreign Office spokesman denied having any knowledge of the arrests.

The Calvinists comprise about 20 per cent of the population and are the second largest church group in Hungary after the Roman Catholics. The leadership has been under fire recently in the Communist press, partly because of its links with the World Council of Churches.

Bishop Laszlo Ravasz, who resigned in 1948 on grounds of poor health, replaced Bishop Bereczky last fall. Recently Bishop Ravasz was sent to live in a village near Budapest. Dr. Laszlo Papp, dean of the seminary and another leader against Bishop Bereczky, also had to take a leave of absence recently "for his health."

She regularly spends four to five hours a day looking up addresses and sending the survivors—many of them in other states—one or two religious tracts, offering hope and encouragement.

Now, Mrs. Kniss says at least 15 other people in states ranging from California to New York and from Texas to Michigan, are conducting a similar "ministry of sympathy."

"I'm amazed. I can hardly get over it," commented Mrs. Kniss, a widow.

Her own tracts, entitled "In Time of Sorrow" and "I Am the Door," are provided by the Christian and Missionary Alliance, of which Mrs. Kniss is a member.

The tracts have gone to about 17,000 people.

An eye ailment has caused Mrs. Kniss to interrupt her work temporarily—but she is anxious to get back to the job.

Mrs. Kniss never intended to be on the receiving end of correspondence—in fact, she remained anonymous until a local newspaper and The Associated Press carried her story.

The State Department moved cautiously into action on the issue. It prodded Nasser to stop ignoring a Western proposal on the collection of tolls and make some kind of reply soon. The proposal is several weeks old.

Nasser seemed to authorities here to be moving ahead on some plan of his own for setting up the operation of the canal entirely on Egyptian terms. This would leave it up to the user nations, including the Western powers, to transit the canal as customers of the Egyptian government or take the long and costly route around Africa.

Pressure Not Apparent

If the West has any strong pressures to exert on Nasser now they were not apparent here today. Some experts on shipping said that when the waterway is thrown open to vessels of all sizes in about three weeks it can afford competitively not to use it. Authorities are not yet certain, however, how Nasser intends to play this situation—whether he will take account of Egypt's long-range interest. The experts concede if Nasser wants to be tough he is in a strong position to get away with it.

The United States, Britain and France were reported to have reached full agreement on another aspect of the Middle East situation. This was created by Russia's proposal Feb. 11 that the four powers make a six-point declaration of a common Middle East policy.

Focused On Suez

Suez interest was focused here today on the statement by the Egyptian Canal Authority that ships of 500 tons could begin moving through the canal immediately if they paid their tolls directly to Egypt. Since the canal is scheduled to be ready for about 70 per cent of normal traffic in three weeks today's announcement was taken as a pattern of the Egyptian plan.

The tolls formerly approached 100 million dollars a year.

Until the time of their attack on Egypt last November, Britain and France paid their tolls to the old Suez Canal Co. at Paris. Egypt permitted their ships to use the waterway. The Egyptians did this because they figured the money thus paid in could be taken care of when they settled British and French claims arising out of seizure of the canal last July.

Move Explosives From Suez Tug

CAIRO, Egypt, March 8 (AP)—Egyptian engineers today began removing explosives from the sunken tug Edgar Bonnet, biggest remaining block to Suez Canal shipping. At the same time 10 small boats, all under 500 tons, passed through the waterway—the biggest day's traffic since the canal was shut down more than four months ago.

Although there was no formal statement of new policy, Egyptian officials reiterated that opening of the 103-mile waterway will do Israel no good. Israeli ships will continue to be barred from transit. Egypt's view is that, in the absence of a peace treaty, she is in a technical state of war with Israel even though an armistice was signed in 1949.

Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler said from his headquarters at Ismailia that his U. N. lifting teams still had not been given the go-ahead by Egypt to begin hoisting the wrecks of the Edgar Bonnet and the warship Abukir from their muddy beds in the canal.

But the fact that Egyptian Suez Canal Authority and army engineers finally had been given the signal to "defuse" the Edgar Bonnet by removing the explosives hidden in its hull was taken as a sign that Wheeler soon would get the green light.

Israelis Burn Up Ammo, Equipment

TEL AVIV, March 8 (AP)—The Israelis burned a large ammunition dump and unusable equipment in withdrawing from the Sharm el Sheikh area. Asked about the destruction of the equipment and the Egyptian guns, Gen. Moshe Dayan replied: "Why should we leave any fortifications or armament here? Is there really anybody who wants to use them?"

Probe Hears Conflicting Bribe Tales

Possible Perjury
Prosecution Seen
In Rackets Case

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—Conflicting testimony by Mayor Terry Schrunk of Portland, Ore., and six other witnesses about an alleged $500 bribe was referred to the Justice Department today for "possible perjury prosecution."

The move was ordered by Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the special Senate committee investigating rackets.

McClellan commented the department has a difficult job in deciding whether perjury has been committed when there is a conflict between just two witnesses.

May Find Answer

"But in this instance," he said, "I think there is an opportunity for the department to find the correct answer and determine what its duty is in prosecuting the guilty."

Big Jim Elkins, former boss of Portland's underworld, has testified he was told by a gambling associate that Schrunk accepted a $500 bribe to call off a gambling raid in 1955, when Schrunk was Multnomah County sheriff. Five other witnesses have corroborated parts of his story.

But Schrunk swore today he never accepted the bribe. He has agreed to undergo a lie detector test in an attempt to convince the committee he's telling the truth.

The senators are making a nationwide inquiry into alleged racketeering in labor unions and industry. For the past two weeks they have been investigating alleged links between the powerful Teamsters Union and racketeers in Portland and Seattle and Spokane, Wash.

Organizer Is Witness

Another witness today was Clyde Crosby, the $16,800-a-year international organizer for the Teamsters Union in Oregon.

Crosby testified Elkins once tried to extort $10,000 from him. He said the gambler told him that if he paid up he could have some tape recordings of conversations which Elkins represented as being detrimental to Crosby.

The union official said Elkins played the recordings for him but he didn't hear "anything derogatory to me."

Crosby assailed Elkins, a key witness in the probe, as a perjurer and blackmailer.

Bomb-Laden Man Is Shot

MONTREAL, March 8 (AP)—A dynamite-laden gunman was shot and wounded by police today after terrorizing employees and customers of a bank and threatening to "blow up the whole building."

The unidentified man had 20 sticks of dynamite on his person and wore a nylon stocking over his head. He was shot in the neck by police who fired through the glass front of the branch of the Toronto-Dominion Bank.

The man had a wire contraption around the top of his head and a battery in his pocket.

Before he was wounded, the man fired two bullets in an apparent attempt to frighten the bank manager. One of the bullets struck a clock, the other the ceiling.

After the man was felled by the bullet, police found the dynamite on his person and in a paper bag he carried. Police said the dynamite was equipped with caps and "set to explode."

One Man Killed As Small Tanker Rams Water Taxi

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP)—A small tanker rammed an anchored freighter in rain-swept New York Harbor tonight, crushing a little water taxi that was about to take on the freighter's crew.

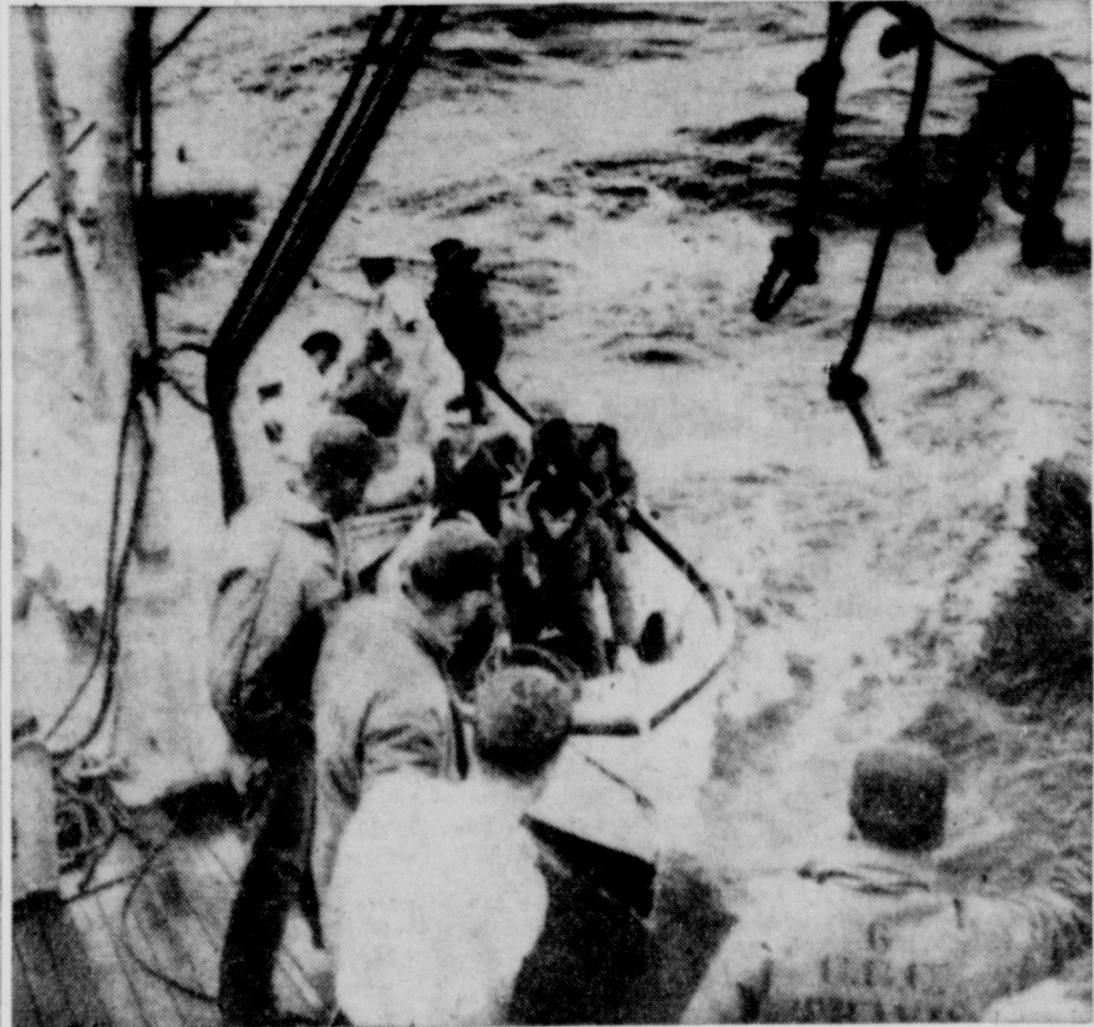

One man aboard the 35-foot water taxi Oscar Gordon, was killed. A second was feared trapped in the wreckage.

The dead man tentatively was identified as Thomas O'Rourke, 60, a retired policeman who pilots the taxi about the harbor to service anchored vessels.

Had the collision occurred a few minutes later, the taxi would have been loaded with crewmen going ashore from the 8,070-ton freighter, Steel Admiral.

The 468-foot-long freighter had a large hole ripped in her side. She is owned by the Isthmian Steamship Co.

The tanker was a 150-foot coastwise vessel. Her bow was stove in.

Rescued From The Sea

Teen-Age Boys From U.S. Base Join Rebels

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—Three teen-age American boys have disappeared from homes of their parents on a U. S. Navy base in Cuba, presumably to join a group of Cuban rebels, the State Department said today.

Officials at the State and Navy departments expressed concern for the youngsters, fearing that if it is true they have joined a rebel band in the Cuban mountains, they might get involved in a clash between the anti-government group and Cuban soldiers.

The youngsters disappeared from the Navy base at Guantanamo, in the eastern end of the Cuban republic. The rebel band is reported hiding in the Sierra Maestra Mountains, not far away. Cuban officials have said the rebel group is small, and is being hunted down.

The Navy said the missing boys are Victor Buehlman, 17; Charles E. Ryan Jr., 17, and Michael Garvey, 15.

The Navy said they were listed as dependents of James J. Garvey, chief machinist mate, 14 Carroll St., Watertown, Mass.; Charles E. Ryan Sr., hospitalman first class, 7 Lemon Rd., Monson, Mass.; and Cmdr. Joseph Buehlman, 352 Pomona Ave., Coronado, Calif.

Ghana Becomes 81st Member Of UN Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—Ghana became the 81st member of the United Nations today less than three days after it came into existence.

The new African nation was welcomed by unanimous vote of the General Assembly. Its action came a day after the 11-nation Security Council unanimously recommended Ghana for membership.

British Gold Coast colony and the U. N. trust territory of British Togoland. It became independent Wednesday.

Ghana's Setha Kobla Anthony was on hand for the U. N. vote and took his seat in the Assembly immediately.

Woman Sought To Kill Husband

SELDEN, N.Y., March 8 (AP)—A mother of three children was under mental observation today, accused of having plotted to have her husband killed by hiring a man to place a charge of dynamite under the hood of his automobile.

Police said the plot failed when the man Mrs. Elvira M. Hough, 35, allegedly hired and pledged a share of her husband's $5,000 insurance told them the story.

Villages Destroyed

ATHENS, Greece, March 8 (AP)—Earthquakes destroyed 20 villages in central Greece today. The Interior Ministry said one death had been confirmed and at least 50 persons were injured.

Czech Rulers Deal Setback To Romance

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, March 8 (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist rulers dealt romance a setback today.

They ordered Harold Connolly, America's Olympic hammer throw champion, to leave the country tomorrow without permission to marry and take with him his fiancée, Olga Fikotova, Czechoslovakia's Olympic discus champion.

Harold came here last week with high hopes of carrying the comely brunette Olga off as his bride to America.

"I am going to Vienna to try to get another visa to enter Czechoslovakia," Harold said. "What else can we do?"

Czech law requires state permission for a citizen to marry a foreigner. Such permission is hard enough to get under any circumstances, but triply so when the bridegroom is an American and when marriage means losing the country's only Olympic medal winner.

N.Y. Tugboat Strike Ends

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP)—A 36-day-old tugboat strike in New York Harbor ended today. The strikers ratified a new contract and started back to work aboard 400 idle tugboats.

It was the longest strike in waterfront history, eclipsing the former record of 29 days set in 1954 by the International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind.).

The strike, involving Local 33 of the National Maritime Union, began Feb. 1.

The 4,000 striking tugboat workers originally listed scores of demands in contract negotiations. During the strike, they voted down a proposed six-year contract.

The contract accepted today runs for four years, with a wage reopening possible after two years. It provides an 11 per cent increase in wages that now range from $1.76 to $2.30 an hour.

"We got all the benefits we would have received in the six-year proposal," said the union president, Joseph O'Hare.

Other benefits related to differential pay, travel expenses, insurance and pensions.

Tugboat operations were expected to be back to normal by tomorrow.

Ike Signs Commie Resolution Today

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—President Eisenhower will sign at 10 a.m. tomorrow the resolution designed to curb Communist aggression or expansion in the Middle East.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said today no special ceremony is planned but that the President will have a statement.

Industrialist Dies

STOCKHOLM, March 8 (AP)—Birger Dahlerus, the Swedish industrialist who tried to prevent World War II, died today after a long illness. He was 65.

Dag Reports To Assembly End Of Task

UN Now Working On Mid-Eastern,
Suez Problems

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—Dag Hammarskjöld formally notified the U. N. Assembly today Israel has withdrawn from the Gaza Strip and Sharm el Sheikh. He turned promptly to his next assignment of working for peaceful conditions in the troubled area.

He reported final liquidation of the invasion of Egypt more than four months after the first assembly demand for Israel, Britain and France to withdraw.

Britain and France complied in December. Israel, however, remained behind until the Israeli government felt it had sufficient assurances against renewed Egyptian blockade of the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba and commando raids from Gaza.

Report Issued

His report was issued shortly before the Assembly met to try and wind up the current phase of the Middle East problem.

Hammarskjöld told the delegates of 80 nations that he had called on the U. N. Relief and Works Agency for Palestine refugees in the Near East—to help in the Gaza Strip, where UNRWA is responsible for 200,000 Arab refugees from Palestine.

He indicated that conditions have been created by the Israeli withdrawal for him to work for peaceful conditions. But he had nothing to say on his future actions on recommendations. It was reported that he plans to set up an advisory committee of several high U. N. secretariat officials to help run Gaza.

As the Hammarskjöld report was circulated here, dispatches from Tel Aviv said most of the Israeli garrison at Sharm el Sheikh and nearby Tiran Island, guarding the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba, boarded a frigate bound for home.

Consolidates Position

The U. N. force consolidated its position in the Gaza Strip. Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, commanding the force, went to Gaza to select a new UNEF headquarters. A spokesman said Burns expects to move to Gaza in about 10 days.

Hammarskjöld told the delegates he had called on the UNEF to take operational control of the work of the U. N. truce organization in the Gaza area. He pointed out that he was trying to carry out the Assembly directive that scrupulous maintenance of the 1949 armistice requires the placing of the UNEF on the Israeli-Egyptian demarcation line.

Israel so far has not shown any sign of permitting U. N. soldiers on Israel's side of the demarcation line.

Bandit Pair Gets $2,000

BALTIMORE, March 8 (AP)—Two bandits escape with $2,000 from a check cashing firm today and the operator of the place said one robber was the same one who stole $6,700 from him a year ago tomorrow.

Ben Bukowitz, on the Ace Currency Exchange, and two others in the place were ordered into the back room by two men who then took $2,000 from a cash drawer. They also took $58 from Walter J. Gregory, who had just cashed a check.

Law Enforcement Aided Woman To Clean Up City

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—A former woman mayor of Portland, Ore., said today it just took law enforcement to clean up vice and corruption there during her four-year term.

"I didn't have any trouble," added Mrs. Dorothy McCullough Lee, now head of the government's Subversive Activities Control Board. She said, however, she had to cope with constant agitation from the underworld and "people whose toes were stepped on."

Mrs. Lee, 55, tall, slim and silver-haired, said in an interview she didn't care to comment on current conditions in Portland being studied by a Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

She said she hasn't been in Portland since she started work for the federal government in 1953. There had been corruption in Portland before she took office in 1949. Mrs. Lee said, adding that it apparently has cropped up again since she left. She was defeated for re-election.

Asked how she went about her cleanup campaign, Mrs. Lee said the platform on which she ran for election had just one sentence about crime: "I will enforce the law."

First, she said, she appointed a good police chief—a former FBI agent who set up the Oregon state police system.

Mrs. Lee said she gave advance notice where the crackdown was coming next, and the day enforcement would start. "Usually, by the time that day came the operation had folded," she added. "They knew I meant what I said."

Ike Planning Florida Trip To Shake Cold

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—President Eisenhower hopes to fly to Florida next week and try to shake off the stubborn cold and cough that have been bothering him for several weeks.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters the President's cough seemed "a little better this morning" but he still has a slight inflammation in the inner ear.

Hagerty said Eisenhower hopes and expects to leave Washington's wet, cold weather about the middle of next week and fly to Florida for five or six days.

This would give him an opportunity to play some golf in the sunshine before going to Bermuda March 20 for conferences with Prime Minister Macmillan of Great Britain.

Hagerty said the White House is looking around for a likely military post with a good golf course or perhaps a private home near a course, rather than a hotel. Whether this would be on the east or west coast of Florida, Hagerty said he couldn't say.

If arrangements can be worked out, Hagerty said he expected to be able to announce definite plans by Monday.

Eisenhower, whose cold dates back to the Jan. 21 inauguration ceremonies, began talking last week about the possibility of getting away to a warm, dry climate for a while. He mentioned Tucson, Ariz., as one possibility, but Hagerty said today this idea has been discarded because it would take five to seven weeks to fly back to Washington, in case the need arose.

Florida, he pointed out, is only two and a half or three hours flying time away.

Bomber Hangs Self On Bridge

PARIS, March 8 (AP)—A quiet locksmith who blew up a Paris apartment house with a weird bomb was found hanging today beneath one of the city's historic bridges.

Police said they found the body of Marcel Garanger, 60, suspended beneath a bridge spanning the Seine River at the Isle St. Louis. He had been sought since Wednesday night.

No one was hurt in the blast but the inside of the building was wrecked and 25 persons were left without shelter.

In Garanger's apartment, police patched together the remnants of a fantastic apparatus of candle, string and other odds and ends rigged to set off a delayed gas explosion from the open taps of a stove.

Apart from an argument Garanger had over repairs to his chimney, police could find no motive for the bombing.

It's Small, Alright!

HOLLISTER, Calif., March 8 (AP)—Businessman Joe Felice bragged about his small and lightweight foreign-built station wagon. It was stolen last night in front of his home and recovered today inside the San Benito County High School library—where someone had carried it.

Abused Dog Lover Files Suit

NEWARK, N. J., March 8 (AP)—A dog lover, who says she's been abused and insulted by bus drivers for riding with a chihuahua in her pocket, wants the judge to tell the drivers off.

Mrs. Lucille Gebhardt of New York filed a suit against Public Service Coordinated Transport to establish her legal right to take her 9-year-old Panchita aboard the company's buses.

The one-pound pet is transported in a specially sewn pocket of her fur coat.

Ever since 1948, she said, she's been subjected to "rude, offensive conduct" by bus drivers.

Before going to court, Mrs. Gebhardt talked it over with her husband, Harrison Gebhardt, a law lecturer at New York University. He boned up on his dog law and told her she was within the law in riding with the dog in her pocket.

New Fraternity House Contract Brings Dispute

BALTIMORE, March 8 (AP)—The University of Maryland today awarded a contract for a new fraternity house to a non-union contractor despite a unionist's statement his men might not work next to non-union labor.

Hill & Kimmel of Silver Spring got the award on a bid of $112,750, lowest of bids submitted on construction of a home for Sigma Alpha Mu Fraternity on the university's College Park campus.

A controversy over the possibility that a non-union contractor might get the job has been raging since the university called for bids on the job last month.

At the time, it included with specifications a notice to contractors that "Prospective bidders are advised that there are currently under way on the College Park campus of the university projects totaling over $4,000,000 in value. Each of these is being constructed with 100 per cent union labor. The university reserves the right to protect itself against any situation that may place progress on these jobs in jeopardy."

The highly publicized notice drew angry comments from some non-union contractors and caused Eugene M. Wells, secretary of the Building Trades Council, in Washington to comment that his union men "reserve the right" to refuse to work alongside non-union bidders.

Wells was not immediately available for comment on today's action by the Board of Regents.

The contract award was approved without debate with only Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, university president, commenting that the issue had stirred public controversy. The regents held a 90-minute executive session before starting their regular meeting at which the award was approved.

In other actions, the regents: 1. Voted to set up a "sponsored resources program" which would be aimed at supplying the university with funds on a systematic and continuous basis.

2. Authorized board Chairman Charles P. McCormick to sign a $125,000 loan agreement with the federal Housing and Home Finance Agency for a student union building in Baltimore.

3. Postponed action on a possible State tuition increase pending action of the General Assembly.

GOP Delegate Demands More Motor Laws

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 8 (AP)—Del. Berkson (R-Wash.) implied today that the Maryland House of Delegates was not meeting its "responsibility" in coping with the growth of traffic accidents and deaths.

"Obviously we are not passing laws that a lot of the public wants," he said. "Society has a right to be protected from unfit and unsafe drivers."

Berkson took the floor to urge the House to "adopt a positive program" of highway safety.

He referred to a batch of nearly 30 bills submitted at the beginning of the Legislature in January, saying that while the Judiciary Committee considered them seriously, "it felt they had serious defects."

No Criticism

The Republican delegate disclaimed any criticism of the committee. Republican Gov. McKeldin earlier had done so for the committee's disapproval of a bill to require drivers to be examined after three years.

Del. Simpkins (D-Somerset), chairman of the Judiciary Committee, arose to reply to criticism by the governor and "newspaper editorials."

"I want to tell you the record," he said. "The committee received 22 motor vehicle bills in January. Nineteen have been reported out, and I believe they will be, then we will have brought out 21 of the 22 bills we received."

"I don't think we can be accused of being in disregard of highway safety."

Renewals, Point System

The two bills drawn by the committee itself call for mail renewal of driver licenses every three years and authority for the commissioner of motor vehicles to set up a point demerit system leading to suspension and revocation of licenses for continued traffic violations.

Del. Silver (D-Balto 5th), chairman of the Legislative Council subcommittee which submitted the more than score of bills, defended House action on them.

"We have already passed five major ones and sent them to the Senate," he said. "We're battling pretty good."

Berkson started his speech by posing the question whether the House is meeting the traffic problem, which he recalled Gov. McKeldin had labeled "number one" at the outset of the General Assembly.

"Education" Not Answer

Berkson claimed "education" has proved not to be the answer and the next question is whether penalties are strict enough for violations or whether new laws are needed.

"Basically, it's a conflict between individual rights and society," he continued. "Many delegates looked at the proposed bills from the viewpoint of hardship on the individual."

Berkson felt the "situation is grave enough" to provide for quicker suspension and revocation of driving licenses.

In an hour-long session the Senate passed and sent to the House what had been tagged in several debates as "The smoking-in-bed bill." It would make it unlawful to "negligently set fire to a bed or other furniture" in a place of public lodging. Offenders would be subject to fines of $10 to $50.

He's Already In The Army

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—John R. Laporte won't be able to show up for that preinduction physical examination ordered by his New Bedford, Mass., draft board.

Laporte, 35, is too busy at his present job—supply sergeant at the Ft. Belvoir, Va., Army Engineer Center. He's been in the Army nearly 15 years.

Reds Infiltrate Negro Churches Committee Told

BATON ROUGE, March 8 (AP)—Two former Negro Communist leaders testified today Red agents have been trying since 1929 to infiltrate Negro churches, especially in the South.

Leonard Patterson told the Louisiana Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation, probing influences behind racial unrest. "The Negro people in the South never accepted the Communist party program."

And Manning Johnson said Communists worked on Negro pastors in Dixie, pressuring them to participate in various front movements.

Both New Yorkers were former Red leaders before they turned against the party.

Johnson said Communists favored the churches in the South as a target because they provided a cloak of respectability and a place to hide from police investigations.

"When a cry arose against the law investigators," he added, "the agents thus created sympathy for their cause. The Communists were very clever in this."

The committee hearing in a state Capitol courtroom was less than half full when the hearings opened yesterday. But an overflow audience was present today.

The crowd was all white until shortly before the noon break, when four Negroes walked in, including the Rev. T. J. Jemison, Baptist minister who heads a group that filed a lawsuit to knock out bus segregation in Baton Rouge.

The Rev. Mr. Jemison, an executive in the Southern Leadership Conference headed by the Rev. Martin Luther King of Montgomery, Ala., had no comment on the testimony.

"The bulk of the Negro people were in the churches, so the Communist party gave them priority," explained Patterson, a North Carolina native.

He said the use of Communist Negro front groups was tried during the 1930s, but failed. The party has centered on the churches and the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, he said.

Sun And Dust Slow Nixon

MONROVIA, Liberia, March 8 (AP)—A hot African sun and swirling red dust clouds today slowed the pace of Vice President Nixon's good-will visit to Liberia.

Despite these discomforts, Nixon journeyed 60 miles deep into the Bomi Hills overlooking the capital to put in a plug for free enterprise.

Standing at the edge of Africa's largest iron ore deposits, he cited it as "a splendid example" of how a foreign government can cooperate with American private industry to develop its natural resources.

Nixon doffed his coat for the first time publicly as he watched steam shovels working at the huge cliff deposits being mined by the Liberian Mining Co., which is controlled by the U. S. Republic Steel Corp.

The U. S. Air Force, meanwhile, rushed an engine from Prestwick, Scotland, a thousand miles away, to replace one of the four engines on Nixon's plane which failed after he landed at Roberts Field yesterday. The engine is scheduled to be installed tomorrow in time to permit Nixon to leave on time for his overnight flight to Uganda.

Although the vice president hewed to his fast schedule during the day, he moved with less zip than he has since he began his nine-nation tour nine days ago. He acknowledged to reporters he had a slight recurrence of his flu attack, a condition undoubtedly brought on by the sticky heat and dust.

Woods Searched For Escaped Pair

PRINCE FREDERICK, Md., March 8 (AP)—Police and National Guardsmen today searched a wooded area not far from the Patuxent River Bridge for two jail breakers.

The pair was believed to have raided a grocery store and laundry at nearby Barstow last night for food and clothing.

Remains of food and a safe and cash register taken from the laundry were found in a nearby barn. A cleaver and a butcher knife also were taken from the grocery.

Deaths And Funerals In Tri-State Area

REV. THOMAS A. CALNAN

A solemn pontifical requiem mass was celebrated by the Most Rev. Patrick A. O'Boyle, archbishop of Washington, yesterday in St. Michael's Catholic Church in Silver Spring for Rev. Thomas Aquinas Calnan, the first pastor of that parish and a native of Lonaconing.

Father Calnan was born in Lonaconing on March 23, 1886, and was the oldest of 11 children. He went to District of Columbia schools, and later attended Duquesne University, Mt. St. Mary's College and Catholic University.

Father Calnan served for a while in the Springfield, Ill., diocese, then went to the Holy Name Church in Washington as an assistant.

In 1930, he went to Silver Spring, and celebrated a mass on July 6 in the old Forest Glen, Knights of Columbus Hall.

For the next 15 years, Father Calnan watched his parish grow from 100 to 2,500 while he built a school, rectory and convent. When illness forced his retirement in 1945, Rev. Joseph J. Depece carried on Father Calnan's work and saw the church building finished.

He died Tuesday evening in his sleep in Seton Institute, Baltimore, where 35 years before he had been ordained a priest by James Cardinal Gibbons. Father Calnan was buried in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. John Costello, Mrs. John L. McCarthy and Mrs. John A. Duffield; two brothers, William J. Calnan, and Michael F. Calnan; three nephews and a niece, all of Washington.

MICHAEL LIPPOLO

Michael Lippold, 36, of 24 Fifth Street, died yesterday evening at Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient since last May. He had been in ill health for a year.

He was born October 14, 1920, at Magnolia, W. Va., and was a son of Mrs. Teresa (Maletick) Lippold and the late John Lippold. Prior to his illness Mr. Lippold was employed as a dispatcher in the shipyards at Baltimore. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Surviving, in addition to his mother, are a daughter, Miss Connie Lippold, city; three brothers, George, John and Peter Lippold, all of this city, and five sisters, Mrs. Anna O'Brien, Hagerstown; Mrs. Katherine Linaburg, Baltimore; Mrs. Amelia Jones, Tampa, Fla.; and Mrs. Mary Ingram and Mrs. Margaret Grant, both of this city.

The body is at the Scarpelli Funeral Home.

MRS. ALICE SMITH

PARSONS, W. Va.—Mrs. Alice Smith, 78, died early yesterday in Baltimore, following an illness of five years. Mrs. Smith was a former resident of Hambleton, but had resided in Baltimore the past 15 years.

Mrs. Smith was the widow of Jacob Smith and was a member of the Baptist Church.

She is survived by two sons, Ted Smith, Baltimore, and Clinton Smith, address unknown; two daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Smith, Grafton, and Mrs. Gladys Clifford, Baltimore; a sister, Mrs.

Police Are Looking For Stolen House

VISALIA, Calif., March 8 (AP)—The Tulare County sheriff's office is searching for a stolen house. Sheriff Sandy Robinson said O. L. Welch phoned him yesterday: "Please help me—somebody stole my house."

Robinson checked and reported: "The fellow wasn't kidding." Welch said "the only thing remaining is the foundation" of the three-room house.

Teachers

(Continued from Page 12) ages, the Allegany County situation differs in that of its 600 teachers, 70, or better than 10 per cent are at retirement age in this county," Miss Murray observed.

"The urgency rests with 24 of these 70 teachers who are now between 65 and 70 but because of the failure of the formula caused by inflation are financially unable to retire," she added.

At Annapolis, the legislative committee suggested a revolving fund of $15,000 a year for the county for 20 years to fulfill the 1927 contract. This would amount to about one cent on the county tax rate.

Principals, teachers and business people interested in the welfare of the older teachers are reported to have sent a number of telegrams to the County Delegation from Cumberland and Frostburg urging favorable action on this pension problem.

ARLET HINZMAN

Arlet Hinzman, 63, of 784-Fayette Street, died last night at Memorial Hospital where he had been admitted earlier in the day.

A native of Camden, W. Va., he was a son of the late William and Mary (Lamb) Hinzman.

Mr. Hinzman came to Cumberland from Weston as a representative of the General Foods Company. Later he became a representative for the Peoples Life Insurance Company until his retirement in 1947 due to ill health. Mr. Hinzman was a member of the Methodist Church.

He is survived by his widow, Frances (Miller) Hinzman; a daughter, Miss Betty Lou Hinzman, at home; a brother, Rev. Frank J. Hinzman, Weston, and a sister, Mrs. Della Davis, Pleasant Grove, Ark.

The body is at the George Funeral Home.

MORRISON BURIAL

Services for Thomas E. Morrison, 77, of 305 Arch Street, who died Thursday in Memorial Hospital, will be conducted Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Scarpelli Funeral Home by Rev. Louis Chastain, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, and Rev. R. F. Neel, retired Methodist minister.

Interment will be in Rose Hill Cemetery and pallbearers will be O. J. Swartley, E. J. Nixon, Edward Nield, Paul and Edgar Holtzman and James Leasure.

MRS. JOSEPH V. MULLEN

PIEDMONT — Mrs. Nora Mullen, wife of Joseph V. Mullen, died Thursday at her home, 218 West Fairview Street. She had been in failing health some time.

A native of Piedmont, she was a daughter of the late Thomas and Ellen (Kelly) Niland. Mrs. Mullen was a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Westernport, and the Sodality of the parish.

Surviving, besides her husband, is a brother, John Niland, Piedmont.

The body will be at the Fredlock Funeral Home today and the rosary will be recited there at 8:30 p. m. Sunday. A solemn high requiem mass will be celebrated Monday at 9:30 a. m. and interment will be in the parish cemetery.

Learn To Say Nice Things

We're all more than a little susceptible to the Irishman who kissed the Blarney Stone, even if we know better than to believe everything that he says: It's human nature to like to hear good of ourselves, whether or not it can be taken literally.

The ability to say nice things is certainly part of charm. No, I don't suggest for a minute that a reputation for charm can depend on anything as flimsy as a talent for flattery. Superficial compliments can't win and hold another's liking. But it is important to tune your thinking to the good in others, to notice the nice things they do and to be able to speak up about it pleasantly and at the right time.

How many times just this week have you thought something complimentary about someone else and haven't mentioned it? Wouldn't you really have liked the person you approved so much to enjoy your good thought? Then was there actually a good reason for keeping it to yourself?

A charming person not only has a real interest in others and appreciation of them, she has a graceful way of expressing it. And this applies to casual relationships as well as to friendships. She makes it clear that she values fellow workers for their talents, accomplishments and good will. She makes guests feel her wholehearted welcome to them as individuals, not merely as any guests. She speaks to acquaintances in a way that shows she's glad to say hello.

DeMolay Majority Group Names Outstanding Boy

Awarding of the "DeMolay Boy of the Year" and introduction of guests marked the ninth annual Ladies Night dinner of the DeMolay Majority Association held last evening at the Ali Ghan Country Club.

James Diehl was presented a gift of a white sweater with the association emblem, for his "all round and outstanding work for DeMolay during the past year." He expressed his appreciation for being elected.

The presentation was made by Dr. John Robinson, president of the association, who welcomed the guests and introduced honorary members. They were Dr. Albert Cook, 32d degree, K.K.C.H., Chevalier and Legion of Honor; Arthur B. Gibson, 33d degree and Legion of Honor; Richard Taylor, 32d degree, members and past members of the advisory board; and Walter Shanholtz, who assisted in the ritual work.

Mrs. Glen Diehl, mother of James, was introduced, as well as the officers, Fred Jackson, vice president; Ronald Hansrote, treasurer; John Hare, secretary; John Schade, chaplain; and John Diamond, sergeant at arms.

Gifts were presented to the ladies. The invocation was given by Mr. Schade.

Theodore Foote, supervisor of art education for Allegany county schools, gave a "Camera View of Allegany County."

Charles Dicks was chairman of arrangements. His committee consisted of James J. Kave and Mr. Hansrote.

Mrs. Louise Riley, 507 Louisianna Avenue, is in New York attending the International Beauty Show.

WHAT A BIG BOOK!

Of course the Bible is big. Not only in size . . . but in the endless depth of the messages to man.

God never intended the Bible to be studied without help. When an Ethiopian official centuries ago wrestled with a passage from Isaiah, God sent the evangelist, Philip, to meet the man's chariot, climb aboard, and explain the text's reference to the crucifixion of Christ.

Explaining and applying God's Word are still two of the major aims of the Church. Every sermon, every lesson, every discussion topic your church offers is intended to focus your attention on the timeless truths of Scripture and help you thread them into the pattern of your life.

Cherish your Bible . . . read it regularly . . . and let your Church guide you to the richness of its message.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The U.S. Navy And The Middle East

New Secretary of the Navy Thomas S. Gates, who was Under-Secretary since 1953, seems to have good qualifications for the job. At 51, he's a combat naval veteran of World War II. As a successful investment banker he knows the value of money and how a public tax dollar must be well invested in a military force. In the Pentagon he has demonstrated his ability to get along with a proud and touchy breed of professionals.

What is the chief weapon Mr. Gates will be largely responsible for? Probably it is the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean. Its 50 warships, 265 planes and 25,000 men are within air reach of the entire Middle East and a big piece of southwestern Russia. The carrier Forrestal, now in those waters, can launch four Douglas A3D jet bombers every 22 seconds. These 600-mile-per-hour Skywarriors can fly 1,400 miles without refueling. If the battleship Iowa is there mainly for prestige purposes, the newly-renovated cruiser Boston is not. She is the noted guided-missile ship that bristles with the Terrier rockets designed to "home" on incoming enemy aircraft.

If the Middle East quiets down, Russia may become more impatient. Who can doubt Russia still wants to hold the threat of oil famine over Western Europe? Vice Admiral Charles R. Brown says he is ready with his task forces for whatever may happen. He is an able hand at making friends at dozens of ports of call around the Mediterranean.

Mr. Gates can feel satisfaction that the Navy is on station as one of the main military deterrents to big or little war in the hottest part of the world today.

These Days

Sound Money

I was shocked to learn that the Nevada Republican State Central Committee has passed a resolution favoring sound money. I thought nobody cared. Jingle money has so long replaced sound money that I should imagine that several generations of young Americans had never heard of sound money.

To most Americans today, money is money. It is something to spend while you have it. It is something the government takes a share of and that no matter what you earn, there is too little, if any at all, left at the end of the year to make the slightest difference. One might as well spend it and call it a day.

These Nevada Republicans came out for sound money, including "a free market for gold and return to the hard money standard, with gold and silver coins and gold and silver certificates." Such a statement must upset the "Moderate Republicans" no end because they are even able than the New Dealers and Fair Dealers in thinking out ways and means to spend the people's money.

The more the government spends on projects to maintain the peace of the world, the softer American money gets. Today, the American dollar is worth less than the Canadian dollar which does not bother our debt-ridden citizens too much but it will in due course dawn upon us that the solution to the high cost of living is not higher wages but better dollars.

It is a little astonishing that the Nevada Republicans should so completely endorse the economic program of Senator George Malone who was singled out by Paul Hoffman in the now defunct Collier's Magazine as among those who were Republicans before 1952 and therefore are no longer useful to the country.

It is supposed to be a characteristic of a Neanderthal Republican to favor sound money and a scientific tariff and a respite from giving away the wealth of the United States even to those who do not want any of it. A Neanderthal Republican is one who believes that the Republican Party did not do so badly in the years between Abraham Lincoln and Herbert Hoover and who insists that imitation of the New Deal is not only flattery but an unnecessary pursuit of evil.

It will be interesting to observe how completely the Nevada resolution on sound money will be ignored and how we shall print more and more paper money until the taxpayer and voter gets tired of the inflationary processes and of high taxes and only elects in 1958 those who are pledged in advance and in writing to support tax reduction.

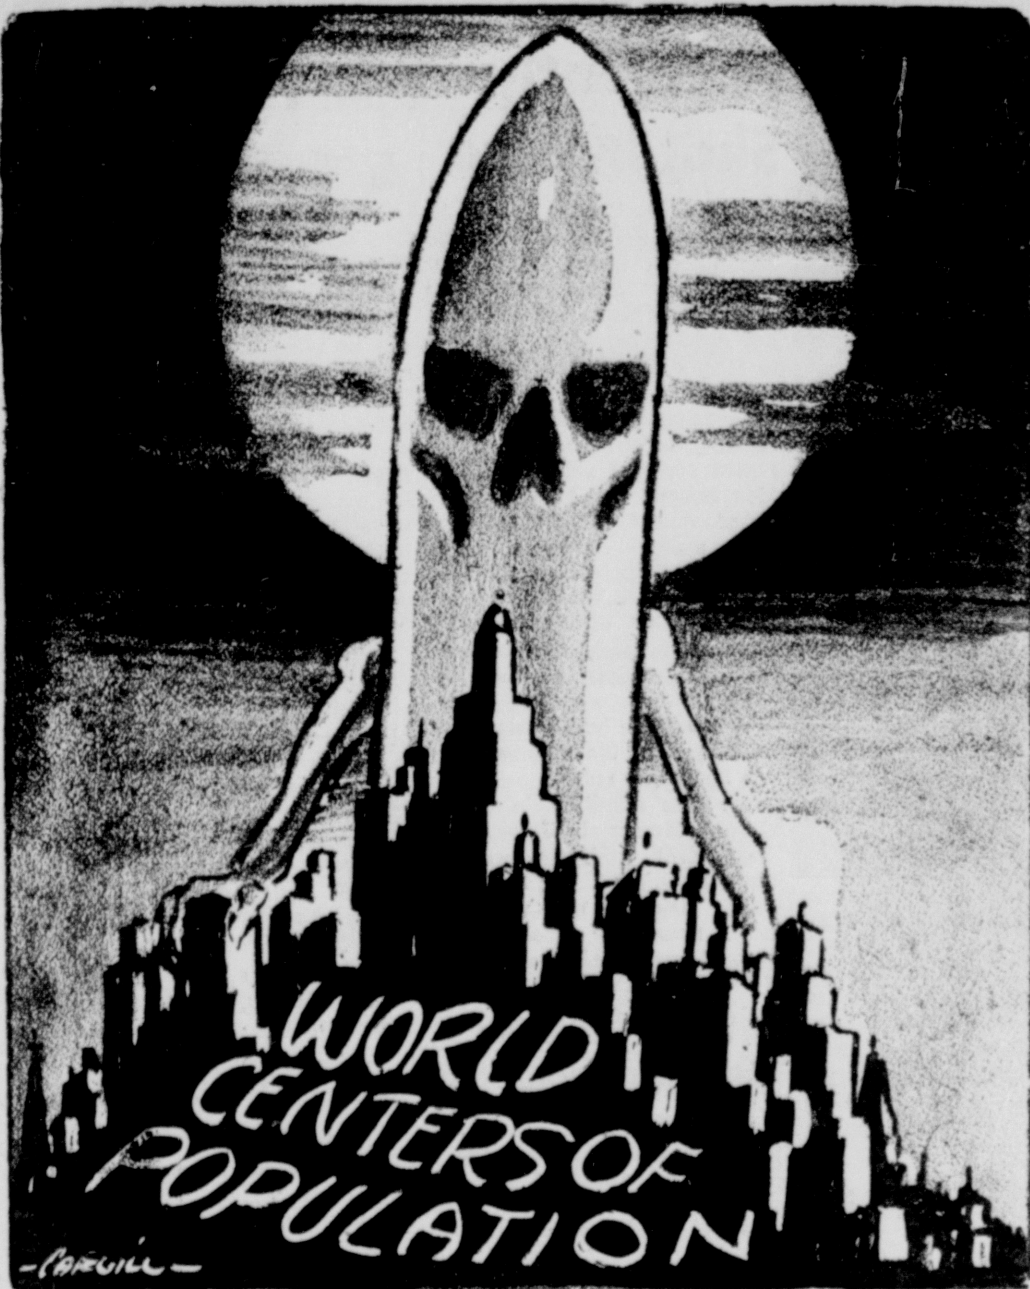

It has come at last that the ordinary American citizen who is not a Ph.D. is sick and tired of working for taxes and a tax revolt is in the offing. The politicians in Washington are getting the rumblings of this revolt in their mail and the volume of this sort of mail is increasing and members of Congress, particularly Republicans of the ancient variety who have to stand for election and do not depend upon White House appointments for their careers, are getting very worried. If the mail continues to mount up to the 1958 election, it may be sad for some of these Republicans.

The radical Democrats, of the ADA type, are not as worried by inflation, as the conservatives are. They, the Democrats, believe, on the whole, that there is another election to be won out of inflation. That sort of thinking cost the Republicans the 1932 election, for they believed that there was another election to be won out of Prohibition. Old-timers will remember that in 1932, Franklin D. Roosevelt ran on a platform of Beer and Economy. He pursued both, until he discovered that taxing the rich was as popular as beer and a highball. The New Deal was an afterthought.

Members of Congress are risking the opinion that the last easy spending bill will be the $200,000,000 that the President proposes should be used in the Middle East. That bill has been passed, but the expenditures will be watched politically. It is now believed that very little of this money can be expended on constructive projects. For instance, building a road between two palaces in Saudi Arabia, so that the King may use his gold-plated Cadillac more often, is not seriously regarded as a constructive project.

'Bomber' Still At Large

White House Snub Of McCarthy Poses Question

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has every right to invite to official receptions at the White House whomever he pleases even though such social functions are paid for with taxpayers' money.

The South will rejoice at the acceptance by the President of the principle that there need not be any "forced association" where public funds or facilities are involved.

Congress annually appropriates for the use of the President a fund to cover entertainment expenses, and usually there are several state dinners and receptions—for the diplomatic corps, the judiciary, the Vice President, the Speaker of the House, members of Congress, and government officials.

Invitations are issued in the name of the President of the United States, and when a reception for members of Congress is held, the assumption is that it includes all members, irrespective of party. To discriminate against any member of Congress, either because of his public speeches or because he has offended the White House in some other way, may be wise or unwise politically, but it is legally and socially correct.

Snubbed Two Years

Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, it has just been confirmed by the White House itself, was not invited to the reception for members of Congress either this year or in 1955. There was no such reception in 1956 due to the President's illness.

While the President doubtless felt he had ample provocation because of the bitter attacks made on him and his administration by Mr. McCarthy, the question arises as to whether it was wise for the President to snub also those people of the state of Wisconsin who voted for and elected Senator McCarthy and who agree with his criticisms. If it is intended to begin a "purge" of Mr. McCarthy in connection with his bid for renomination in the Republican primaries in 1958, this kind of thing can boomerang and benefit the Senator just as it turned out in almost every case of attempted "purge" by Democratic Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

In politics, when you make a martyr, often votes are made for the underdog. This was the case when the elder Robert La Follette, Senator from Wisconsin, and a progressive Republican, was bitterly condemned from one end of the country to the other during World War I for his speeches denouncing his own government at a time when young men were being drafted to go to war. He was accused of obstructing the war effort.

Senator LaFollette refused to testify before a Congressional committee as to his conduct. No action was taken to punish him although the Senate was petitioned by both houses of the Wisconsin

Letters To The Editor

The Cumberland News welcomes letters from its readers. All letters to be considered for publication must be signed, although signatures will be withheld upon request. Length should be limited to 300 words. Publication cannot be guaranteed, and no letters can be returned.

To The Editor of The News:

I am wondering if any other readers might feel as I do regarding some local police policies concerning parking meters.

It is reasonable to believe that these meters are a source of good revenue for the city. It is likewise a service for which citizens are glad to pay—providing they are not fined for parking at a meter which is out of order—as happened to me lately.

Whose duty, I ask, is it to check and keep these meters in working order? Every other department in the city has maintenance crews to do this to equipment for which it is responsible.

I cannot accept the responsibility for reporting meters nor do I think it is a fair requirement of citizens. Yet this is what I was told I should do; that unless they are reported "out of order" the police department has no way of knowing. But they do have a meter man who will repair them if and when reported by users.

I was tagged for "illegal parking," yet I attempted in vain to force a coin into the meter in question.

I asked for an officer to go with me to the meter and see in my presence that what I was saying existed. That was not possible.

Since I was tagged "illegally" I must pay a fine. It would be $1 but considering my complaint it could be settled for twenty-five cents. I must pay to tell the city their meters are not working. I would like to know what kind of democratic law this is. And who makes these laws?

If I park overtime or go away and neglect to insert a coin I have no one to blame but myself, but in this case I did neither by choice.

I would like to know why a department of justice is unwilling to check in the person's presence, upon request, a faulty meter, but is willing to accept money for which no service has been rendered.

I believe, in fact I know, this is not the policy in many cities in which I have lived or traveled across this country.

I think the Chamber of Commerce might be interested in this angle of cooperation for NOT bringing business to Cumberland.

Serious Weil's Disease Is Carried By Rats

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

During the last 12 years I have covered in this column almost every ailment known to man. One exception is Weil's disease, a liver and kidney disorder that may be more prevalent than we suspect. The malady also is known as leptospirosis, which is a jawbreaker, but the names of the 20 different causative organisms are even longer.

One of the common culprits, for example, is Leptospira icterohaemorrhagiae. These wiggly, spiral germs come originally from infected rats, dogs, cattle, and swine. They are excreted by the animals through the kidneys and transmitted to man via contaminated food or water. Infection also is acquired from swimming in polluted pools. The rat may have the condition for years without its health being affected. Over long periods of time, the chance of passing the disease to humans multiplies. The organisms usually enter the body through the intestinal tract or small openings in the skin. The malady is a threat to workers in mines, sewers, ditches, fisheries, slaughter houses, and on the farm.

Early symptoms are indistinguishable from any acute infectious disease. They include headache, chilliness, generalized aching, and prostration as well as loss of appetite, nausea, and vomiting. The temperature varies from 101 to 105 degrees F.

As the disease gains momentum and the organisms settle in the liver, kidney, and muscles, the victim suffers from abdominal pain. Muscular spasms along the spine and the calf of the legs is common. The eyes become bloodshot and tiny hemorrhages occur beneath the skin.

In some instances the membranes covering the brain bear the brunt of the attack and signs of meningitis develop. Fever usually lasts four to seven days. Liver involvement reaches its height on the fifth to sixth day, and the skin turns yellow in at least 50 per cent of all patients. Jaundice subsides by the end of two weeks and from then on, recovery is rapid.

Diagnosis is made by studying the blood and the most effective remedies to date are the antibiotics such as penicillin, aureomycin, and terramycin. Weil's disease is a serious

Refugee From Hitler Challenges Old U.S. Family Firm In Proxy Battle

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Most important stock manipulation in years has been going on under the nose of the Securities and Exchange Commission with that agency, charged with policing the stock market, holding no public hearings. It has, however, collected a lot of interesting data available to the public.

The manipulation involves the proxy battle between Hitler-refugee Leopold Silberstein and his Pen-Texas Company on one side and the old-line American family firm of Fairbanks-Morse on the other.

Fairbanks-Morse, whose scales have been a familiar sight on railroad platforms, farms, and factories for half a century, is fighting against being swallowed by a refugee who fled from Hitler to Holland around 1932, then went to England, Australia, Shanghai, and thence to the USA. In approximately 10 years since he has been in the United States, he has built up one of the 500 largest industrial combines of the nation, and is now trying to take over Fairbanks-Morse.

Silberstein is a likable gentleman, whose status as a refugee has aroused sympathy and won him friends. However, his financial wizardry has raised the question of whether he is practicing the same tactics in the USA which have given capitalism a bad name in Europe.

Silberstein is head of Pen-Texas, the holding company which he developed and which now owns a dozen firms, most of them having defense orders from the government. As president and chairman, he draws a $75,000 salary, plus expenses and a house.

Commissions To Son-In-Law

He also operates a company called UNO Equities Corp., of which he owns 96 per cent. UNO is a brokerage firm, actually not much more than a telephone and a set of books.

SEC records show that UNO buys and sells securities that are being acquired by the Pen-Texas Company. It buys securities on the outside, then sells them to Pen-Texas on the inside, taking a commission on the sale.

Thus Silberstein operates a brokerage company, which, with the inside knowledge available from him, can make money from his transactions on behalf of Pen-Texas.

SEC records are quite clear on this. Anybody can take a look at them. The only trouble is that the average investor can't take time to go down to the SEC, dig out the records and read them.

However, here are some of the transactions, admitted by Silberstein, officially recorded by the SEC.

Between February 3, 1956, and January 31, 1957, Silberstein bought for UNO 50,600 shares of stock to Pen-Texas, of which Silberstein is president, with a commission paid to his UNO Equities.

Another transaction on file with the SEC involves Peter Cats, son-in-law of Silberstein, who is a customers man with the brokerage firm of Francis I. Du Pont and Co. During the same period — February '56 through January '57 — according to SEC records, Cats bought 63,300 shares of Fairbanks-Morse stock for $3,019,960.17 and sold it to Pen-Texas, on a commission basis.

It might be argued that what Silberstein's son-in-law does on the stock market is his business. However, an affidavit filed by Cats shows that he listed himself as an official financial adviser to Pen-Texas, in which case he should be giving Pen-Texas the benefit of his financial advice, not making a broker's profit at the expense of Pen-Texas.

Silberstein has acquired for Pen-Texas over 550,000 shares of Fairbanks-Morse stock worth over $25,000,000. Most of it was first acquired through his son-in-law, Peter Cats, then resold to Swiss operators, who resold to Pen-Texas with Silberstein's son-in-law making a commission.

If this were done by anyone in government a howl would go up from Congress and there would be a public investigation. However, the SEC has held no public investigation. It has secured some facts, belatedly, and they are on record for the public to read if they want to take a trip to the SEC.

Billboard Lobby

The billboard lobby has adroitly enlisted labor leaders engaged in the sign-painting business to pressure Congress against the anti-billboard bill to protect the new federal highway program from unsightly outdoor advertising.

Sen. Dick Neuberger (D-Ore.) and Rep. Henry Reuss (D-Wis.) authors of the bill, have been getting letters from such sign-painters as Bruce Mather, secretary of Local 1045, Sign and Pictorial Painters Union of Denver, accusing them of "unjustified and malicious criticism of a proud and very much worthwhile industry."

"May we be so bold as to suggest that we who have grown up with the outdoor advertising industry," wrote Mather, "are also American citizens, and taxpayers, and motorists, and decent people who vigorously resent being classified as the 'billboard boys.'"

"We maintain that artistically designed, expertly constructed and rendered, and carefully maintained outdoor advertising units are an asset to the community; are appreciated and enjoyed by the passerby; serve to hide or direct attention away from unattractive structures and areas; are of proven value to the advertiser, and we urge you to kill this poisonous legislation."

Neuberger and Reuss, however, still maintain that nature's own beauty is a better bargain for the sightseer than man's advertising art.

The Gordian Knot

By Brother Barnabas

When one is in a jam and doesn't know which way to turn or what to do he is apt to think life isn't worth the candle.

In such a state of mind he may find some consolation if he may read his Bible Exodus 14: 13-15.

The setting of that ancient story has no duplicate in our time, but there are plenty of instances where life gets tough and we don't know what to do. Then there is a surprising turn of fortune and the sky is blue again.

What are you going to do when the rent comes around, and money is tight, and your son is a rotter, and your daughter has run away with the hired man, and you've lost your job, and you feel God-forsaken?

Brother, that's a hard nut to crack. We'd better take it to a Philadelphia lawyer. By common consent that savant has become accredited with having superior wisdom.

Home Of Electricity?

William Penn got along peacefully with the Indians, and founded Philadelphia. Benjamin Franklin got his wife there, and discovered electricity.

Following that tradition it would seem that the Philadelphia lawyer would have the edge on all other counselors anywhere, in handling difficult problems.

However, this writer dissents. We have lawyers right here at home who can get you in or out of trouble, as the case may be, with the same ease with which a mathematician can square a circle.

Or, they can put you in or pull you out of a political berth in a finesse equal to any to be found in the "City of Brotherly Love."

All professionals have their separate techniques, but all are in the same cult. It is true of the medics.

Why, old Doc Sifer has been known to saw a man's leg off and have him on his feet in three weeks.

A "Painless" dentist had quite a "pull" in the community. The pain he had was in collecting the bills.

The king of Phrygia, Gordius, tied a knot so tight that anyone who could untie it would be handsomely rewarded by the gods.

Along came Alexander the Great, and with a whack of his sword cut the Gordian knot and thereby became the master of Asia.

The moral is, when you are in a terrible fix use your head and a little intestinal fortitude. Israel Putnam did that when he was bullied by a British officer in the French and Indian war. The officer found him seated on a small keg smoking his pipe. In response to some insolent remark "Old Put" said, "I'm but a poor miserable Yankee, never fired a pistol in my life. You must see, Major, that I am in an unfair disadvantage."

"Let's try our valor some other way. Here are two powder kegs. I have bored a hole and inserted a slow match in each." "So, if you will be good enough to seat yourself there, I will light the matches, and he dares to sit the longest on his keg will be called the bravest."

The matches burned slowly. Putnam, the "old old" was cool-headed; the officer was distraught. Finally, the fire was within an inch of the kegs, when the Britisher took to his heels. The kegs were filled with onions!

Our time calls loudly for men who "know their onions" in dealing with many complicated situations which science has foisted upon us. The mania for speed is an affliction which we may call "speeditis."

A little imphish Puck whispers "Hurry, hurry, take the short cut; if you hurry up you can make the crossing. You can save five minutes if you take the subway."

This shortening of time and distance is at the expense of beauty and grandeur and romance, which are the vital ingredients of a full life.

"What is this life if full of care
We have not time to stand and stare?"

A horse is a better symbol of civilization than an automobile. A horse has sense, an automobile hasn't.

In the "gay nineties" your horse had a sympathetic understanding of the courting that was going on behind the dashboard.

The reins fell loose over his back and joggled leisurely along the longest way home.

How Far Above?

The wife of William E. Gladstone was discussing the knotty problems of today with a group of friends in the drawing room.

A pious lady remarked, "What a comfort it is to know there is One above who is able to tell us." "Yes," replied Catherine. "I think William will be down in a few minutes."

Whoever can cut the Gordian knot in any one of a number of difficult impasses has the vote of

Frostburg Exceeds Goal In Annual Heart Drive

Total Of $1,196.27 Is Contributed

FROSTBURG — Citizens of Frostburg and immediate area contributed a grand total of $1,196.27 in the February Heart Fund campaign, according to William Preston, local chairman for the Allegheny-Garrett Heart Association. Frostburg had a quota of $1,000, he noted.

Preston expressed his gratitude to all those who contributed and especially to the scores of volunteer solicitors who helped go over the goal. He said, "most people gave willingly because they know the Heart Association is rendering excellent service to all who need it. There are a number of heart cases who get regular assistance from the association. In addition, people know that funds must be available for continued research, if the several forms of heart disease are to be conquered and life prolonged."

Preston added that the popularity of "Heart" is emphasized in the number of persons who mailed contributions voluntarily, when they were not at home on Heart Sunday. A total of $220.50 was received in the mail in envelopes left by solicitors when people were out. This represents 20 per cent of the total money raised here, and clearly shows that local people want the heart program continued and expanded, Preston commented.

The breakdown of the fund raised shows Heart Sunday totaled $784.83; dances held by the VFW, American Legion, Moose, DAV and Republican Club netted a total of $128.20; plastic heart coin containers brought in $47.74, and contributions mailed totaled $220.50.

In addition to Frostburg proper, residents of Wrights Crossing, Shaft, Grahamtown, Midlothian and Consolidation Village were included in the Frostburg solicitation. In each of these outlying areas, Preston declared, "contributions were generous."

Keyser Ham, Egg Show Is Underway

KEYSER — The third annual Ham, Bacon and Egg show, sponsored by the Keyser Kiwanis Club opened Friday in Keyser High School gymnasium. The show will be open today from 1 to 9 p. m.

The show features displays in booths by area businesses and manufacturers, in addition to a display by the Farm Women of Mineral County.

Prizes will be awarded during the show. Some of the prizes have a value of from $40 to $50, with a mixture of other less valuable articles. In addition, other gifts will be given to patrons by each of the booth occupants.

The highlight of the show will be the display of hams, bacon slabs and eggs, all to be judged by an U. S. meat inspector for quality and class. These will be on display throughout the show. Prices will be placed on them and they will be sold by their owners, members of 4-H clubs in the several West Virginia counties.

A feature of the show this evening will be the annual presentation of the FFA and FHA groups in a "Sweetheart of FFA" competition.

Junior Choir Planned For Sunrise Service

FROSTBURG — Miss Amy Meek, chairman of the Easter Sunrise Service, has announced that weekly practices of the junior choir are being held under the direction of Arthur Thomas with Jacqueline Carter as pianist. She stated that although response has been good many churches only have one or two represented and some none. She has urged all local ministers to encourage their children to report Tuesday at 6 p. m. at the First Methodist Church for rehearsal.

Churches participating at present are: Salem Reformed, Church of the Brethren, First Methodist, Congregational, Welsh Baptist, English Baptist, St. John's Episcopal, St. Michael's John Wesley, Dickerson and St. Paul's Lutheran.

Gov. Underwood Outlines Stand On Civil Service

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 8 (AP)—Gov. Underwood complained today that legislative leaders, after asking him to co-sponsor civil service legislation, went ahead on the idea without him.

Senate President Ralph Bean (D-Hardy) said last night that the Senate would not override Underwood's veto of the civil service measure.

Underwood told a news conference that Bean and House Majority Leader Myles (D-Fayette) approached him in a Statehouse hallway before the legislative session began, and asked him to co-sponsor such a measure with the Democratic legislative steering committee.

"I told them I certainly wanted to see it before I made any conclusions," Underwood recalled. "But I only received copies of the bills at the time they were introduced."

The governor said he did not set up any legislative program on civil service for two reasons:

1. He had not appointed new department heads in those departments in which he proposed civil service, and he wanted their help.
2. Underwood proposed a merit system earlier to include certain employees of the Road Commission, mines and in mental institutions.

The civil service measure came "rather suddenly, and I felt a need to see the final outcome of it before going ahead myself."

Crellin Girl Accidentally Shot In Face

OAKLAND—Martha Lewis, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lewis, Crellin, was accidentally shot beneath her right eye in an accident Wednesday night at her home, according to State's Attorney S. R. Pagenhardt, who investigated.

Pagenhardt said the shot was fired by the girl's brother, Foster Lewis, 12, who said he had no idea the gun was loaded.

According to the state's attorney, another brother, Robert Lewis, 15, loaded a pistol and laid it on the table while he went for a bucket of coal. The 12-year-old boy came into the room, picked up the pistol, aimed it at his sister and pulled the trigger. The 22 calibre bullet entered the fleshy part of the face below the eye and came out.

She was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital but Pagenhardt said she was not seriously injured. The State's Attorney said no one was being held, since the shooting was termed accidental.

Oakland Adopts Daylight Time

OAKLAND—A motion that Oakland adopt Daylight Saving Time beginning Sunday, April 28, was unanimously adopted by the Mayor and Council at a recent meeting in the City Hall. The motion was made by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner and seconded by Carroll E. Miller.

Just how many other towns of the county would follow suit was not known. County offices will be prohibited from adopting Daylight Saving Time, since this question appeared on the general election ballot last November and was defeated by a vote of 3,312 to 3,150.

The five precincts of Oakland favored daylight time 927 to 564. Grantsville's two precincts favored daylight time 376 to 163. Accident favored it slightly. Communities voting against daylight time included Friendsville, Swan, Bloomington, Sang Run, Deer Park, Bittering, Kitzmiller, Vin, Crellin, Avilton and Mt. Lake Park, and the majorities were enough to overcome the results in Oakland and Grantsville.

In a more recent municipal election in Friendsville, the citizens of that town reversed their November opinion and voted to adopt daylight time this year.

LONACONING—Mr. Don Emerson, Frostburg State Teachers college science department, spoke on "Natural Resources, Past and Present," at the Lonaconing Rotary Club on Thursday evening at the VFW home.

He showed colored slides of natural resources of the State of Maryland. He was introduced by Lowell M. Sowers, program chairman for the evening.

Harry Warnick, chairman of the Boy Scouts committee, reported that scout committees have collected $400 to date.

Visitors at this meeting were Past District Governor Ivan C. Diehl, and Thomas Elias, members of Frostburg Rotary club.

President Edward McPartland appointed a nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers for next year's officers.

Frederick H. Sheeley, Lowell M. Sowers, Dr. Leslie Miles Jr. and Charles Clise are named to the nominating committee for the Rotary Club and will report Thursday, March 21, for the election of officers.

Allegany And Valley Triumph, Northern Is Defeated

Campers Beat Rebels, 67-63, In Hub City

Sink 21 Out Of 29 Fouls; Play Cadets For Title Tonight

HAGERSTOWN, March 8 — Allegany High School's Campers earned the right to challenge Frederick High School's Cadets for the Maryland District No. 1 Class "A" basketball championship here Saturday night by eliminating South Hagerstown High School's Rebels in a semi-final round game before 1,600 persons tonight at South Hagerstown High School gymnasium. The score was 67-63.

Coach Paul Flick's Rebels held the lead only once in the game and that came after the opening whistle when a field goal by Doffmeyer made the score 2-0. Kenney Johnson's two foul knotted the count at 2-all and Carl Brown's basket sent the Allegany Countians ahead, 4-2, only to have Carter deadlock the count at 4-4. Brown's second basket of the game sent the Campers to the fore and they never were headed thereafter.

The Cumberlanders held a 19-16 advantage at the quarter, led by 11 points at intermission, 43-32 and were eight points in the lead when the third period ended 56-48. Allegany enjoyed a 14 point lead at 46-32.

Cut AHS Lead To Point

The Rebels chopped Allegany's lead to one point at 59-58 in the fourth period but a fielder by Ronnie Bruce, two foul goals by Jim Deremer and a double-dedger by Brown enabled the Campers to put the game out of the fire. With the score standing 65-59, Terry Strook slammed in a fielder for the Rebels, Deremer connected for two foul goals for AHS and a basket by Monroe of South Hagerstown concluded the scoring.

South Hagerstown outscored Allegany 25 to 23 goals from the field but the Campers were real hot at the foul line when they collected 21 points in 29 attempts. The losers sank 13 of 26 charity throws.

Kenny Johnson was Allegany's chief point-maker with 20 tallies. Carl Brown had 17, Jim Deremer 14 and Ronnie Cook 13. Monroe sparked the Rebels with 23 points, including a 9-10 performance at the foul line. Strook collected 17 points, Doffmeyer 10.

Saturday night's Class "A" championship game here is set for 9 o'clock. Lineups:

South Carolina Tops Maryland

Wallace Tallies 31 In 74-64 Conquest

RALEIGH, N.C., March 8 — Upstart South Carolina smothered second-seeded Maryland 74-64 to night to gain the finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball tournament along with unbeaten North Carolina.

Their meeting tomorrow night will decide the conference title and Yale's opponent in the first round of the Eastern NCAA Regional Tournament in New York Tuesday night.

Gangling Grady Wallace supplied the South Carolina winning spark with a 31-point performance that brought his two-game total to 72 points, only seven off the tourney record for three games.

Maryland led 14-8 before Wallace began to hit. His five hoops in less than five minutes started a South Carolina push that tied the score at 30-30 at the half.

John Nacinick, Maryland's leading scorer with 20 points, drew his fourth foul in the third minute of the last half and sat out the next 11 minutes. During that time Wallace and his inspired mates shot ahead to stay.

West Virginia Belts Spiders, Reaches Finals

Sharrar Stands Out In 83-62 Victory

RICHMOND, Va., March 8 — West Virginia's fast-breaking Mountaineers demolished Richmond's zone defense midway the last half here tonight and ran away from the Spiders 83-62 to advance to the finals of the Southern Conference Basketball Tournament.

Washington and Lee met Virginia Tech in tonight's second game to determine tomorrow's opponent for the defending champion.

Six-foot-10 Lloyd Sharrar was the West Virginia straggler as the Mountaineers, hitting an even 50 per cent of their shots, gave Richmond's young team a terrific shellacking to move within one step of their third straight conference championship. Sharrar poured in 20 points but, even more importantly, snared 17 rebounds. His presence rendered the Spiders powerless under the boards when West Virginia began its big push that cracked the game wide open.

Richmond had kept matters reasonably close in the first half, trailing only 39-32 at intermission. All-America Rod Hundley, who had 17 points for West Virginia, accumulated four fouls and sat out the early stages of the second half.

When Richmond narrowed its deficit from 15 to eight points with 7:08 remaining and the count 61-53, Hundley wheeled into action with his accurate shooting and tremendously deceptive passing. West Virginia immediately spurred away with the "Hot Rod" bagging nine points down the stretch in an assault that at once turned the game into a rout.

Warren Mitchell had 14 points and Larry Raupius added 12 for Richmond. Don Vincent and Bob Smith had 13 apiece for West Virginia, which now has won 20 straight Southern Conference games over a span of two seasons.

Huskies Lose To Thurmont In Overtime

Drop 59-51 Battle; Williamsport Bows To Knights, 35-14

HAGERSTOWN, March 8 — Valley High School's Black Knights of Lonaconing and Thurmont High School of Frederick County marched to the finals in the Maryland District No. 1 Class B basketball tournament tonight by ushering out Williamsport High School of Washington County and Northern High School of Garrett County in opening round contests at South Hagerstown High School before approximately 1,400 persons.

Valley High eliminated Williamsport by the score of 35-14 in the first of three games tonight while Thurmont was forced to play a three-minute overtime period to defeat Northern High's Huskies to the tune of 59-51.

Regular Game Ends 47-47. Thurmont, coached by Carlos Englar, and winner of 15 out of 18 games during the regular campaign, trailed Northern by four points, 47-43, with two minutes remaining in the regulation game then rallied and knotted the count at 47-47 on a foul goal by Lynn with 23 seconds left to play.

Before the final whistle, Weigle blew a foul shot for Thurmont and Darwin Robeson missed a pair of free throws for the Garrett countians.

In the overtime period, Spaulding and Glass slammed in shots from the field to make it 49-49. Then a long shot by Favorite and successive baskets by Lynn and Spaulding made it 55-49 and the Frederick countians never were headed.

Five Exit On Fouls

Five Northern players left the game via personal fouls in the final and overtime stanzas. They were Robeson, Dick Spear, Ronnie Glass, Tom Schroyer and Edgar Mickey.

Lynn and Weigle were Thurmont's leading scorers with 19 and 13 points while Northern's top man was Schroyer with 15 tallies.

Cop Low Scoring Tilt

Valley advanced to the finals by whipping an outclassed Williamsport quint which resorted to control basketball throughout to keep the score down.

Coach John Meyers' Black Knights, Maryland's Class "B" defending champions, took a 6-2 lead at the quarter, led 18-5 at the half and held the long end of a 26-9 score when the third period ended. The 35 points made by Valley represented the lowest score credited to the Black Knights in 23 games this season. Early in the season they were held to 44 points when they lost to Piedmont.

Johnson Gets 18 Points

An oddity in this game was the fact that Ronald Young, Valley's high scorer for the season, failed to get a point from the field or foul line. Johnny Johnson, Valley guard, dumped in 18 of his team's markers on six field goals and 6-7 fouls. He accounted for six of the Knights' 13 baskets. The winners meshed 9 of 11 free throws.

Williamsport, winner of 10 and loser of nine games during the regular season, scored only four field goals in tonight's game. Three were credited to Yeakle, a forward. The losers connected for six foul goals in 11 tries.

Meet At 7:30 Tonight

Valley and Thurmont clash for the Class "B" district title here Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock. The winner will play the victor in District III for the right to play in the state tournament at College Park, March 15-16.

Terps Open Grid Drills On Monday

COLLEGE PARK, Md., March 8 — The University of Maryland's spring football plans were thrown for a loss by the weather today.

Coach Tommy Mont said the practice field, wet down by a day-long rain, was too sloppy to begin the spring drills tomorrow as scheduled.

Another attempt will be made Monday to get the sessions moving. Mont, beginning his second year as top Terps tactician, expects 99 candidates to turn out. Mont plans practice sessions on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday to fill out the 20 days in 36 allotted for workouts by the NCAA.

The squad includes 32 lettermen—28 of them from the 1956 squad, which had a dismal 2-7-1 record. There are 18 seniors and 14 juniors among the lettermen. Center Gene Alderton of Cumberland, an All Atlantic Coast Conference choice, is back with reserves behind him several deep.

The critical end post has a lot of experience in returning lettermen. Rodney Breedlove, a top freshman end from Cumberland last year, has been switched to guard for spring drills.

Practice ends with the Varsity Alumni game April 13.

Two French boxers, Eugene Criqui and Andre Routis, were world's featherweight champions.

Walt Byars Beats Hart

Scores Stunning Upset At Garden

NEW YORK, March 8 (P)—Walt Byars, a clever, shifty little welterweight from Boston turned in one of the big fistic upsets of the year tonight by outpointing 5-1 favored Garnett (Sugar) Hart of Philadelphia at Madison Square Garden. Byars weighed 144½, Hart 145½.

The surprise victory stretched the New England welterweight champion's unbeaten streak to 11 and snapped Hart's winning streak at 12. Hart, holder of a 20-1 record until tonight, had swept his last seven by knockouts.

Tears rolled down Byars' cheeks when the unanimous decision in his favor was announced.

Major Leaguers Open Exhibition Contests Today

Kucks Faces Cards, Tigers Meet Bosox

By BEN OLAN

Five months after Johnny Kucks shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers to wrap up another world championship for the New York Yankees, the 16 big league ball clubs are ready to take the field today in the 1957 exhibition openers in Florida and Arizona.

More than 30 rookie pitchers and a surprising number of veterans are slated to work on the first day of the six-week "warm-up" program.

Kucks To Hurl

Kucks, who blanked Brooklyn 9-0 in the World Series' seventh game last Oct. 10, is one of the experienced moundmen scheduled to kick off the exhibition season. He will face the Cardinals. The others are Warren Hacker and Art Fowler of Cincinnati; Bob Rush and Jackie Collum of the Chicago Cubs; Jack Meyer of Philadelphia; Ralph Branca of Brooklyn; Herm Wehmeier of St. Louis; Erv Palica of Baltimore and Dean Stone of Washington.

Hacker and Fowler will go up against Chicago White Sox youngsters at Tampa, Fla. Hacker, obtained from the Cubs in a winter trade, won 3 and lost 13 last year and Fowler was 11-11 for the Redlegs.

Phils Play Buccos

At Clearwater, Fla., Meyer, 7-11, as a reliever, Don Cardwell, 15-7 for Miami and Jack Sanford, a military service returnee, will work for Philadelphia against Pittsburgh. The Pirates will offer Bob Purkey, 6-8 for Hollywood, Art Swanson and Laurin Pepper. Swanson had no decisions with the Buds last year and Pepper was 1-1.

Stone, a leftsander with a 5-7 mark last season, will be joined by Bud Byerly, 2-4 and Evelio Hernandez, 18-4 for Charlotte, N. C. against the Kansas City A's at Orlando, Fla. Ed Blake, George Brunet and Ken Johnson will pitch against Washington.

Foytack Nominated

At Sarasota, Fla., the Detroit Tigers will send Paul Foytack, a 15-game winner, against the Boston Red Sox.

Rush, who won 13 games in '56, Collum, and Gene Fodge will oppose the Baltimore Orioles at Mesa, Ariz.

Most of the clubs will remain close to their training bases for the next few weeks. The Red Sox, however, leave Sarasota for the West Coast March 20 and will play in California and Arizona before returning to their spring home the first week in April.

The Giants and Indians will travel extensively. After breaking camp April 1 they'll head east for Florida before coming north for the start of the regular season.

The regular campaign begins Monday, April 15, with Baltimore at Washington. The other clubs will open the following day.

Playoff Schedules In City Rec Loops

Playoff games scheduled for next week have been announced by the City Recreation Department as follows:

Keyser Plays Martinsburg At Shepherd

Sectional Winner Tonight Qualifies For Regional Event

Keyser High School and Martinsburg High School will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at Shepherd College gymnasium, Shepherdstown, in the final game of the West Virginia Section 6 Class A basketball series.

Tonight's winner advances to the Region II tournament next weekend at the West Virginia University Field House, Morgantown. The victors in the four regional tournaments vie for state honors at Marshall College, Huntington, March 22 and 23.

Coach John Shelton's Keyser quint won 14 of 21 games during the regular season and forged to the sectional finals by defeating Romney High in an overtime battle at Potomac State College, 66-64. Romney had beaten Franklin in an opening round game by the score of 54-47.

Martinsburg, coached by George Whitacre, suffered two losses at the hands of Keyser during the regular season, 61-51 and 80-57 but the Bulldogs wound up strongly by knocking off Handley and South Hagerstown for a 14-6 record. The Bulldogs won their initial section game from Charles Town High School, 64-50 at Shepherd College.

Keyser won the sectional last year by whipping Romney 69-44 and Charles Town 81-40 but was eliminated by Shinnston, 70-52 in the regional tourney at Fairmont. Martinsburg was knocked out of the 1956 sectional by Charles Town, 48-

Market Dips In Slowest Session Of The Week

NEW YORK, March 8 (P)—The stock market dipped today in the slowest session of the week. Aircrafts were about the worst sufferers.

The swelling demand among the economy-minded for cuts in the federal budget has been making an impression on Wall Street, brokers said. This was highlighted by President Eisenhower's statement of yesterday that he is trying to slow down the rate of government spending.

It was underlined today by the request to the President by the House Appropriations Committee for his recommendations on "substantial reductions" in the new budget.

Since defense is preponderant in the budget and aircrafts loom large in defense, it was natural for traders and investors to react as they did to this group today, analysts observed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 80 cents to $173.30 with the industrials down $1.40, rails down 60 cents and utilities down 20 cents.

Despite the general decline there was an even split of 6 to 6 between gainers and losers among the 15 most active issues. Three of the favorites were unchanged.

Mohasco industries was the most active stock, up 1/2 at 10 1/2.

Next came Chrysler, off 1/4 at 74 and Underwood, up 1/2 at 29 1/2.

United Aircraft dropped 3. General Dynamics and Glenn L. Martin 1 1/2 apiece. Gulf Oil was down 1 1/2 as the Israeli withdrawal from Egyptian territory was completed. Royal Dutch,

Walrus, Devilfish Splash Home First, Second At Bowie

BOWIE, Md., March 8 (P)—Bowie race course was a sea of muddy water for the Waldorf Purse today so Walrus and Devilfish splashed home first and second.

Walrus broke fast from the starter's gate for the sixth race, a six-furlong run for 4-year-olds and upward. Never headed, he finished four lengths in front of Devilfish, while Doreen's Play was third.

Keeping Up With Hollywood by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 8 (INS).—Sol Siegel has registered the title "True Love" for a Bing Crosby starrer. But there will be no Grace Kelly, since the princess is not making pictures these days.

Sol feels that this song from "High Society" has become so popular that it could be very valuable as a picture, particularly if the tune wins an Oscar. And, incidentally, I am sorry that Bing is going to be heard only on film when he signs this Cole Porter song at the Academy Awards.

The story of "True Love" sounds very Bing-ish. It's about a pro golfer who plays the tournament circuit and beats all the male competitors, but comes a cropper when a girl beats him.

Henry Fonda, who is supposed to marry Countess Adela Franchetti today, will take the script of RKO's "The Naked and the Dead" on his honeymoon.

Hank is wanted for the part of the lieutenant, and he has expressed himself as being very willing to make the picture.

He already has his marriage license, and when it was made public that he planned to get married, he said, "True, but I don't know when." However, I believe it's today.

Watched James Cagney direct his first picture, "Short Cut To Hell," for Paramount. It's A. C. Lyle's first production job, Robert Ivers' first big picture, and a first for actress Georgann Johnson.

Twenty-two year-old Ivers said that Arthur Loew's daughter sent some film that she had taken of him from Tucson, but MGM thought he was appealing enough to be worth paying his expenses from Arizona. Some months later, Loew wrote for him to come to Hollywood. On the way out he stopped at Paramount and was promptly given a bit in "Delicate Delinquent." Jerry Lewis' picture. "What did they say at MGM?" I asked him.

"They were glad I had a job and was off their hands," he said. Now he has the lead in the Cagney picture.

Would you say that the old adage "If you can't beat 'em, join 'em" applied to Arthur

Check Theft Trial Slated

Three juvenile boys and an 18-year-old youth, all of the Washington area, are being held in Hampshire County (W. Va.) jail, Romney, following their arrest Wednesday night for the theft of a West Virginia Public Assistance check.

The three younger boys and 18-year-old Robert Joseph Pugh, attempted to cash the check in payment for meals at Hanging Rock Diner on U. S. Route 50, east of Romney.

Mrs. Velma Kidwell, proprietor of the diner, notified the Romney detachment of West Virginia State Police, informing them the check belonged to Mrs. Sally Arnold, a resident of the area.

Sgt. R. E. Schnell, detachment commander, and Trooper G. H. Phillips apprehended two of the boys as they were walking along Route 50. They informed the troopers that the other two youths had hitched a ride on a truck heading west. A radio call was made to Romney Police Chief Luther Hutter, who stopped the vehicle and placed the remaining youths in custody.

The group was arraigned Thursday before Justice of the Peace J. L. Russell and ordered held for a juvenile court hearing Tuesday at 10 a. m.

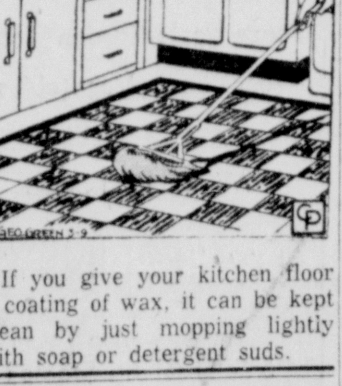

Penn. Ave. Pupils Present Program

The fourth and fifth grades of Pennsylvania Avenue School presented an assembly program in observance of Washington's and Lincoln's birthdays.

Songs included "Our Flag," "Winter," "Flag Song," "Washington" and "Lincoln."

The fourth grade danced the Virginia Reel and the fifth grade pupils danced the minuet. A quiz program, "I Know A Lincoln Secret", was presented.

Cards of Thanks
We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all our friends, neighbors and relatives, who were so kind and sympathetic to us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved mother and grandmother, Mrs. Maude Virginia Dawson. We especially wish to express our gratitude to the pallbearers, Capt. Biggs, those who sent floral tributes and those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral. To all others who in any manner rendered assistance, we are indeed grateful.
CHILDREN and GRANDCHILDREN

In Memoriam
In loving memory of our dear husband and father, William Lashbaugh, who died March 8, 1953.
Dear Daddy, it's been four long years. Since you went away.
They say time heals all sorrow.
But as time goes on your memory still lingers in our hearts.
To think you couldn't say goodbye, before you closed your eyes.
Sadly missed by his wife, Grace Lashbaugh and daughter Kathleen.

Area Twins Killed, 5 Hurt In Accidents

Meyersdale Natives Die As Automobile Crashes Into Truck

Twenty-year-old twin brothers whose parents live near Meyersdale, Pa., were killed instantly yesterday in a highway crash near Geneva, Ohio. A family of five was injured in another accident yesterday on U.S. Route 40 at the east slope of Siding Mountain.

Killed instantly were Donald H. and Ronald H. Miller, sons of Carl F. and Leona (Geiger) Miller of Route 3, Meyersdale, who were employed in Ohio.

The brothers, who were employed by the Plainville Rayon Corporation, were on their way home from work in a car driven by a fellow-worker, who was unhurt.

Skids, Hits Truck

It was reported that the highway about two miles outside of Geneva, where the accident occurred, was slippery with snow. The car skidded into the path of an oncoming tractor-trailer.

In the accident on Siding Mountain five persons were injured, one being hospitalized, in a two-car crash.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital was Mrs. Hilda Gray, 31, of Ellerslie, who is in "fair" condition. She sustained a possible fracture of the right leg and lacerations about her body. She will be X-rayed.

Also injured and treated were her husband, Kenneth Edgar Gray, 39, who suffered fractured right ribs.

Three Children Treated

Their three children were treated for injuries. Paul, age six, sustained a fractured nose; Roger, three, was treated for abrasions, and Brenda, 18 months, suffered a fractured nose and laceration of the lower lip.

Trooper Elmer Baum of the Maryland State Police at Hagerstown, said the accident occurred at 4:45 p. m. about four miles west of Hancock on a straight stretch of highway.

Police said a car operated by Roy Ellis Varner, 64, of Route 1, Hancock was traveling west and Varner attempted to make a left turn onto a side road. In doing so he cut in front of the car driven east by Gray.

Both vehicles were almost a total loss. An investigation is being continued by Trooper Baum.

Driver Injured When Car Hits Tractor-Trailer

A 38-year-old motorist was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday with injuries sustained when the car he was operating rammed head on into a tractor-trailer on U. S. Route 40 in The Narrows.

James Henry Scritchfield, 424 North Centre Street, who complained of chest injuries, was X-rayed and was reported to have sustained a cut on his leg, and a head injury. He was not admitted.

Tic. J. F. Browning, of the Maryland State Police, said the driver was traveling west on Route 40 when he crashed into a tractor-trailer driven by Francis A. Boch, 46, of LaVale.

Police said Boch was backing the rig into a parking lot near the Hager Wholesale Fruits and Produce at Lover's Leap.

The tractor-trailer is the property of the produce firm. Police said Scritchfield was thrown against the steering wheel when the car rammed into the rig.

An investigation is being continued by Trooper Browning, who said the accident occurred about 2:50 p. m.

Jaycees To Work For Home Show

All members of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce have been requested to report to 38 North Mechanic Street between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. today for work in preparation for the fourth annual Cumberland Home Show, according to Richard A. Sell.

The show is scheduled in the Mechanic Street building March 21, 22 and 23.

Ready For The Second Fifty Years

B&O Caller Rounds Out 50 Years Of Railroading

Roy T. Tabler, 622 Oldtown Road, chief caller for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad here, has completed a half-century of service with the company.

Mr. Tabler, who began working for the railroad on March 7, 1907 as a messenger when he was about 15 years old, said last night that he started on his second

Heart Campaign Tops Its Quota With $16,169

The Allegany-Garrett Heart Association board of directors has been informed by James W. Bishop, 1957 campaign fund chairman, that the goal of $16,015 has been exceeded. He stated that a total of $16,169 has been contributed.

This total includes $9,376.89 credited to Heart Sunday, of which $679.85 was received in the mail as a result of envelopes left by solicitors when no one was at home.

Included also is a total of $1,926.37 from Garrett County, toward a quota of $2,000. This total represents $1,478.72 raised in southern Garrett County which includes Oakland, and $447.65 from northern Garrett, which includes Grantsville.

Mr. Bishop noted also that $1,166.27 was raised in Frostburg and $890.63 was collected in Westport and Luke. He said that every community in the two counties contributed more to Heart this year than at any time in the past, and he expressed thanks to all who contributed or worked on the February drive.

Thanks Donors, Workers

"I have participated in many fund raising campaigns," he said, "but never before have I found people so willing to work on a drive and so willing to contribute. It is evident that people generally understand the good work Heart is doing and are anxious to see that this good work continues and is expanded."

Ernest B. Treat, president of the association, added his thanks to include all contributors, workers and especially Mr. Bishop for a job "well done."

The board of directors acted at Thursday night's meeting to close the campaign, and authorized the preparation of a detailed report of the effort for publication so that each area and community will be properly credited with its gifts.

To Name Officers

The board also acted to call the annual meeting and election of officers at 6:30 p. m. May 21 at Central YMCA. Mr. Treat named John E. Geare chairman, F. Allan Weatherholt, and Mrs. Irvin Feld as a nominating committee to present a slate for a board of directors to be elected at the annual meeting.

Brian O'Connell, executive director of the Maryland Heart Association, was a guest and congratulated the local association on the successful campaign and the progress made in the Heart program in both counties.

He said interest in Heart is increasing everywhere. People are becoming more concerned and more "heart conscious."

County Receives 227,000 Trees For Reforestation

The first shipment in the order of 227,000 trees for Allegany County private land owners from the State Nursery at Harman's in Anne Arundel County arrived here yesterday, according to District Forester William H. Johnson.

It takes about 1,000 of these young trees to reforest an acre of land so that 227 acres can be reforested with this 1957 order.

Gilbert Miller has ordered enough for the Consolidated Orchard Company to reforest 22 acres formerly planted in orchard on Martin's Mountain.

Others planning big plantings are the Jenkins Coal Company and the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, 20 acres each, and Charles Linaburg, 12 acres of a farm at Little Orleans.

Some 49 different property owners have ordered the trees, according to Assistant District Forester Harry Hartman, who is in charge of the distribution in this county.

Seven different varieties of trees have been received. They include white pine, red pine, Scotch pine, Austrian pine, larch, Norway spruce and white spruce.

Trees already have been distributed in Washington and Frederick counties in the past 10 days, where the growing season starts a little earlier. They will be distributed in Garrett County next week.

3 Employee Groups Give To Red Cross

ABL, W. Md. Railway Make Allocations

Three more employee groups have made their 1957 contributions to the annual Red Cross campaign, according to O. H. Lashley Jr., chairman of the Classified Division of the campaign.

Allegany Ballistics Laboratory sent a check from their employee charity fund for $740; The Western Maryland Railway Company has contributed $585 from the employee fund there; George F. Hazelwood Company employees gave $450 and employees of the United States Post Office here contributed $222.50. Previously reported from employee charity funds was the Kelly tire plant gift of $1,848.

The ABL group requested that its contribution be divided so that each Red Cross branch and community in the county would get its proportionate share.

The breakdown includes Cumberland, 60 per cent, $444; Frostburg, 20.8 per cent, $153.92; Mt. Savage, 8.7 per cent, $64.38; Eckhart, 2.7 per cent, $19.98; Ridgeley, 4.4 per cent, $32.56; Barton, 1.5 per cent, $11.10; Midland, 0.9 per cent, $6.66; Lonaconing, 0.5 per cent, $3.70; and Tri-Towns, 0.5 per cent, $3.70.

The Western Maryland Railway group specified that Cumberland should be credited with $360; Frostburg, $40; and Ridgeley, $185.

In the meantime, Lashley is striving to complete his organization so that all employee groups will be contacted within the next couple of days. He urges that workers who have left cards and envelopes at the numerous business places throughout city and area, make their return calls for pickup this week.

His job consists of notifying train crews who work out of Cumberland to Connellsville, Pa., Grafton, W. Va., and Brunswick. During the course of a day's work approximately 115 men are called by Mr. Tabler.

On the 21st of this month he will celebrate his 65th birthday, and expects to be busy at his telephone at the office to the rear of the Roundhouse for a few more years.

His father, August M. Tabler, was with the B&O for some 52 years, having retired as an engineer.

Mr. Tabler says he gets along fine without glasses. His eyesight is good enough that he can read the names and numbers of the men he calls, which are located on a board about 10 feet across the room from his desk.

A member of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, he also belongs to the Modern Woodmen of the World.

Mr. Pritchett said detailed plans for that section of the Thruway are not yet available, since actual field surveys have not been made, but that it has been recognized that a considerable area lying south of Lake Avenue has desirable development potential.

Adequate circulation from the center of town, in and out of the area, will be provided, Mr. Pritchett said.

The site favored by the Maryland National Guard is in Ridge-dale Addition, beyond the Ridge-dale Reservoir. The city this Monday authorized payment for appraisals and options on the site.

Adequate access to the Thruway was one of the questions raised in connection with the location.

Mayor Eves said National Guard authorities will be advised that access will be available.

C&A Takes Rate Case To W. Va. Supreme Court

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 8 (AP) — The Public Service Commission may have thought last January that one of its longest cases in recent years was ended. The PSC may have been wrong.

Cumberland — Allegheny Gas Co., after more than 1½ years, was granted higher rates affecting 16,500 customers in 10 northern and central West Virginia counties.

Today C&A appealed to the PSC to review the case. C&A also asked the court to suspend a PSC order which cut the requested rate increase by 40 per cent.

The C&A originally asked rate increases which would increase its income $765,000 yearly. The PSC granted rates designed to bring in $420,000 more per year, then cut that amount by $1,785. The commission turned down C&A's application for re-hearing.

In its appeal to the Supreme Court, the company contended that the PSC erred on 11 points in its order because the PSC decision was not supported by evidence.

Society Will Hold Quarterly Meeting

The Western Maryland Section of the Holy Name Society will hold its quarterly meeting Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's Church in Midland, according to James Coyle, president.

The section is composed of all the parish Holy Name societies in Allegany and Garrett counties. A social will follow the meeting.

Drill Instructor Convicted On Minor Counts

Walsh Innocent On 20 Other Charges

By BEM PRICE

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C., March 8 (AP) — A strapping, 6 foot, 2 inch drill instructor was convicted tonight on four minor counts of illegally touching Marine recruits.

After deliberating for nearly four hours, the special court-martial board found Cpl. William R. Walsh of Lyndhurst, N.J., innocent of 20 other charges of recruit maltreatment.

In finding Walsh guilty on the four charges of illegally touching recruits, the court reduced the severity of the original charges by removing the words "struck" in each incidence and changed it either to "tapping" or "touching."

After returning its findings the court adjourned until tomorrow at which time it will reconvene and consider a sentence.

In its finding the court threw out charges that Walsh had struck the government's chief witness, Pvt. David Lee Porter, 18, Hartford, Vt., in the head. It did find Walsh guilty of touching him illegally.

Had he been convicted on all charges, the 25-year-old Walsh could have been given a bad conduct discharge, a reduction in rank to private, six months imprisonment and loss of all pay during confinement.

Earlier yesterday a Cumberland Marine who had accused Walsh of pushing him over a hedge was excused from further testimony. Pvt. Dennis M. Boyd, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Boyd of Bowman's Addition, was allowed to leave the stand after he became faint.

(Another local recruit, Pvt. Donald Atkinson, 23, also had charged that he was struck by Walsh.)

Court House To Receive New Doors

The George Construction Company, this city, yesterday was awarded the $6,215 contract by the Allegany County Board of Education to install a new vestibule and front doorway at the Court House.

This bid was the only one received by the commissioners Tuesday. The job calls for installation of glass doors in aluminum frames. There have been complaints about the present heavy doors for some time and several persons have had their fingers caught in them.

The Cumberland Office Supply Company was awarded the contract to print 30,000 blank checks for the county on a low bid of $414.50. The only other bidder was the Monarch Printing Company.

County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman reported that the street running off Route 36 in Corriganville concerning which two women complained Tuesday is not in the county road system.

The complaint was lodged by Mrs. Raygor and Mrs. Burley. He was requested to provide some relief for the street, which is badly in need of repair.

Orville B. Boughton, a retired teacher, appeared at the meeting to urge the commissioners to support the proposed local legislation which would assure that retiring teachers are paid half of the highest annual salary.

Local 26 Will Join Motorcade

A delegation from Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, today will join a Maryland caravan to Winchester, Va., in support of Local 511's strike at the O'Sullivan Rubber Corporation plant there.

James Stein, president, said members of the caravan representing Maryland URCLPWA locals will attend a rally at 1:30 p. m. today at the George Washington Hotel.

Principal speaker will be L. S. Buckmaster, general president of the URCLPWA.

Some 300 members of the Winchester local have been out on strike for about eight months as a result of a contract dispute.

Local 26, he said, will put four or five cars in the motorcade.

Consolidation Of County Jails Is Recommended

The consolidation of Allegany and Garrett county jails is being recommended by Joe B. Dellinger, jail inspector of the Maryland Board of Correction.

In the annual board report for 1956, Mr. Dellinger says Allegany and Garrett county commissioners should consider combining the jail population of Garrett with Allegany, and use the Oakland jail facilities only as a lockup.

The jail inspector recommends the removal of prisoners from Garrett to Cumberland on a per diem or annual fee basis. This recommendation would be most economical for the county in view of the fact that the jail count there runs only from one to four per day, he said.

Garrett now has only one operating lockup in Grantsville, which is at the fire house, two having already been closed for the lack of a need in their respective areas, Friendsville and Kitzmiller.

Mr. Dellinger also is recommending that a warden be appointed for the Allegany County jail to allow the sheriff to function properly as a peace officer.

He said in the event the two county jails were consolidated, the sentenced prisoners from Garrett would serve their time in the Allegany County jail.

Employment for the sentenced prisoners should be made possible on the county roads and on work around the Court House and jail.

There are five lockups in Allegany County. The Cumberland City Police Department has adequate stools and lavatories, and when inspected was "very well kept and was in sanitary condition."

Other lockups, all of which were reported in good condition at the time of the inspection, are located in Frostburg, Lonaconing, Westernport and Luke.

Widow Appeals Commission's Order In Case

Mrs. Irene F. Leyh, widow of George J. Leyh, yesterday filed an appeal in Allegany County Circuit Court from a State Industrial Accident Commission order denying her compensation for the death of her husband.

The appeal was filed for Mrs. Leyh by Attorney Thomas B. Finan.

Mr. Leyh was killed in a traffic accident January 3, 1956, when he was struck by a Peoples Transit Company bus along U. S. Route 40 just inside the city limits near the bridge across Wills Creek. He had left work at the Esso Standard Oil Company bulk plant in the Narrows a short time earlier.

The commission order was entered February 8 after a hearing conducted at the Court House by Commissioner R. Duncan Clark last November.

Also docketed yesterday was a $1,000 damage suit and its compromise settlement for $500. The suit was brought in behalf of Richard J. Coyle, an infant, by Bernard F. Coyle and Marie A. Coyle, his parents and next friends, 163 North Mechanic Street, against William Palmer Merritt, 71 National Highway.

Young Coyle allegedly sustained contusions and lacerations, a cerebral concussion, scalp abrasion and severe nervous shock on or about last November 1 when the bicycle he was riding west on U. S. Route 40 about one-half mile west of the city was struck by Merritt's automobile, also westbound.

The settlement was signed by Gorman E. Getty as attorney for the Coyles and W. Earle Cobey as attorney for the defendant.

Allegany County High School Students To Attend Maryland Youth Assembly

House meeting will be held, at which time an election of state officers will be held.

The press bureau will meet at the same time and at 11:30 a. m. each of the candidates for governor will make a four to five minute talk. Allegany County's candidate, Eugene Kidwell of Beall High School, will talk on "must" legislation for 1957.

After 12:30 p. m. lunch at the university dining hall, various bill committees will meet at 1:45 p. m. Mr. Dehn will be discussion leader for the Aviation, Transportation and Motor Vehicle Committee.

A general assembly will be held at 3:30 p. m. at which time the governor's cabinet will be introduced, and at 3:45 p. m. the all-day sessions will adjourn.

Allegany County's slate of officers includes Kidwell for governor; Robert Paye, Allegany High, Speaker of the House; Barbara Mann, Allegany, President of the Senate; Anna Grace Baer, Beall, Clerk of the Senate; William Brown, Fort Hill, Clerk of the House; Conrad Filsinger, Beall, Chaplain of the Senate and Donald Turley, Allegany, Chaplain of the House.

All delegates are members of the H-Y. Some 230 delegates from throughout the state are expected to attend the sessions today.

See To Press For Action On Second Judge

Seeks Reversal Of Committee Action

Senator Charles M. See said yesterday he has not quit fighting for the bill which would provide for the appointment of a second judge in Allegany County when Chief Judge George Henderson retires next year.

He said he hopes to be able to persuade the Committee on Judicial Proceedings to reconsider its unfavorable report on the bill.

The committee on Wednesday adopted the unfavorable report by a 6-3 vote, with one member passing and three others absent.

Senator See said Senator Fred C. Malkus Jr., (D-Dorchester) chairman of the committee, is holding the bill at his request.

He said he did not want the bill to reach the floor of the Senate, where it could have been killed by an unfavorable voice vote.

Passage of the bill, he said, was opposed by Senator Downey (R-Washington) and Senator Friend (R-Garrett), who said Allegany County did not need an additional judge.

Ask Law Changes

A committee representing Allegany County liquor dealers appeared before county legislators Thursday night to request changes in Allegany County's liquor laws.

Senator See said the delegation asked that the law be changed to the form it was prior to 1955.

It is reported that one of the requests made by the liquor group was that an hour be added to the closing time when Daylight Saving Time is in effect.

The Senator hopes to move a number of Allegany County bills next week.

He said he hoped to move the school construction bill, which passed the House recently, by Monday or Tuesday night. The bill was amended during passage so the $1,200,000 program can be financed by bonds or other means of indebtedness to allow the county to make use of the least expensive means of financing.
